BEST SEGA MAG!

Sniff, sniff! This is the last issue that Sam and I will be working on. While Sam has been promoted to Assistant Editor on SuperPro, our sister publication that's aimed at silly people, I'll be overlooking SEGAPro from above in my new role as Assistant Publisher. I think that Sam would agree with me that over the past year, SEGAPro has developed into the finest Sega magazine available. Hey, that's not just our view – it's yours too. From January to June, SEGAPro has gained more readers than any other magazine! That means that more and more Sega owners are turning to us for news, and advice in choosing the right games.

We've also had a positive response from the industry; yunno, those illustrious people who make and sell the games! That's why we have all the top games in. From Sunsoft, with Aero, their new mascot, to Street Fighter II, Sonic CD, Dune CD and Aladdin. This has a knock on effect that means that we become even more popular and we ain't too unhappy about that. Neither should you. Although more Sega owners are privy to the same, exclusive news and reviews as you, our success has meant that we can do more to get you the best information. That's what we'll be doing. Catch us next month for more hot news!

Pat Kelly

PAT KELLY

During the early days of computing, I really fancied a job as a Computer Operator, thinking that it would lead onto bigger and greater things. So, I took a pay cut and started on my new and challenging career, only to be given mundane tasks, such as reloading printer paper, loading computer tape reels onto machines and staring at the system monitor all day waiting to jump at requests that the system prompted. I didn't stay there that long, but I think that many of my brain cells died during the period.

SIMON CHRISTOPHER

The first job I ever had was also the worst. As a BMX crazed eleven year-old I took a job as a gardener for an old dear who lived down the road. All the gardening clobber was so old and crappy I used to spend most of my time hiding out in the leaky shed at the bottom of the jungle for three hours waiting to be paid. Unfortunately I was only getting £1 an hour and I could not wait to get my wheels. The BMX ended up on the never never and so began my life of debt!?

SAM HICKMAN

The worst job I ever had was while I was at University. I was totally penniless, so decided to take a job in a hospital canteen. It was my job to put mashed potatoes on every dinner plate. The dinners came round on this huge conveyor belt, so I had to stand there with my scooper shovelling out potato all day long. If I was really lucky, I might get taken off potatoes and moved on to vegetables. Funny enough, my position as head potato scooper didn't last too long.

JASON JOHNSON

The worst job I have ever had the misfortune to land myself was at a local dairy. Looking back, signing up with the local agencies while at college was not a good idea. Anyway, to cut a short story even shorter, I was given the brain-teasing task of putting Cadbury's Milk Drink cartons in cardboard boxes. The stench of the place was absolutely unbearable and it must have been the worst three hours of my life!

MARK HILL

There can only be one job I can claim to be my worst and this was at a meat factory. I needed the extra cash for college and so I decided to go for this job at a food production factory through a job agency. My task involved scooping raw pasty meat out of plastic containers and putting it into the hopper. I had to do this eight hours a day and coming home smelling of meat every evening was not a pleasant experience! I quit after five days.

COLIN NIGHTINGALE

I have had a fair few mind-numbing jobs throughout my youth, but the worst had to be when I worked nights at a bakery on bun production. For 12 hours I had to prod loose baking trays back onto their path on the conveyor belt. Sometimes, they would pile up uncontrollably which led to a mild panic, like on Beadles About. The noise was constant and had obviously affected the majority of the workforce who went about their business in zombie like fashion.

PRO

This month's news comes directly from the European Computer Trade Show. Although the show was successful in that more software houses were present than ever before, there weren't many new releases on display. Most software houses were being very secretive about next year's titles, but we've managed to bring you exclusive news of up and coming releases.

SONY FLOOD MARKET

If you keep up to date with SegaPro, you'll already know that Sony have started publishing games for the Mega Drive. They first dabbled in game publishing in the early Eighties, when they produced games for a Japanese PC known as the MSX. The PC was only capable of producing 8-bit titles and was soon outdated by better machines. Sony stopped publishing games for the format, but still kept abreast of the gaming scene. Three years ago, they set up a product development division within the company and concentrated on producing games for the console market. Since then, they've also signed up Rage, Sensible Software, Delphine and Psygnosis to produce the best possible games for each console. Although Sony have been pretty quiet for most of this year, all of these companies are involved in producing, as yet, undisclosed products for 1994. Sony intends to become one of the well-known games publishers of the Nineties. With their expertise in the cinema and music markets, they feel they have what it takes to become the first complete entertainment company ever. Although few products have been announced for 1994, you can definitely expect to see more movie tie-ins and maybe a couple of pop star tie-ins too! We've already previewed their latest movie spin offs – Last Action Hero and Cliffhanger (due to be released in November), so here's a peek at Sony's other projects for the rest of the year.

HOOK NOVEMBER ● £39.99

Hook has been available on import since January of this year, but Sony are still to release it officially in this country. Based on the film of the same name, Hook follows the adventures of Peter Banning, the old man who used to be Peter Pan. One evening the evil Hook kidnaps his children, so Peter decides it's high time to shirk his responsibilities and return to Neverland as Peter Pan. The adventure is based around a platform game and while it doesn't use any revolutionary techniques, it has some totally gorgeous graphics. The adventure will be released on both the Mega Drive and the Mega-CD, but it's still undecided whether Master System and Game Gear versions will be released at all. Hook should definitely please the average platform addict although don't expect any ground breaking graphics – especially as the game is the same on both the Mega Drive and the Mega-CD.

NEWS

NOT SO SUPER!

Last month, we exclusively reviewed Tecmagik's Game Gear version of Andre Agassi Tennis. Unfortunately, due to a misunderstanding the game was reviewed while still in the pre-production stages. The ratings given may not be indicative of the score given to the finished version. Furthermore, the price and release dates printed last month, have yet to be confirmed. We apologise for any inconvenience caused.

SENSIBLE SOCCER NOVEMBER • £44.99

With soccer fever sweeping the console world we can soon expect to see a new soccer package from Sony appearing on the market in the coming weeks. Sony will hope this can challenge the much anticipated EA Sports' FIFA International Soccer though it's not clear at present which of the final versions will prove to be the best.

Sensible Soccer will use an overhead pitch view much like that of J League Pro Striker. The main difference with this release, however, is the sprite size because Sony have presented the players in true proportion to the overall pitch size. The players may look very small, but the overall presentation looks very realistic with each sprite animated to a fair extent for many types of soccer moves and poses.

The content of the game includes all the aspects you'd expect to find in any good release. There is a 64-player cup competition and variable computer opponents and pitch conditions. After-touch ball control is also present with coloured players just adding a nice touch to the overall realism and presentation.

The best aspect will probably be the smooth control method and the super-fast action with the players able to perform a variety of different kicks.

Sensible Soccer will use a control method much like Super Kick Off, but with sprites that are sharper and far easier to control. Expect to hear some great sounds as well with the crowd raising their voices at every scoring chance!

● Look out for reviews of Last Action Hero, Cliffhanger, Hook and Sensible Soccer next issue.

● Hook is just one of Sony's forthcoming releases for this year. The Mega Drive version is identical to the CD version, reviewed in SEGAPro #18. Sony's 1994 releases are still a closely guarded secret, but they will have at least eight CD titles for next year!

GEAR WORKS NOVEMBER • £TBA

Gear Works has been developed exclusively for the Game Gear. As an expert clock maker, it is your job to remodel 12 Wonders of the World into clockfaces. You have millions of cogs at your disposal and you must link them to build a giant masterpiece! Every cog is different so as you can imagine, this is a puzzle game with mind-boggling potential. Just to make things even more difficult, "Poffins" appear throughout games, rusting your cogs or breaking off your pegs. They can be squashed, but will always re-appear in a later level to cause certain mayhem!

This is Sony's first exclusive hand held product and it seems as if they've chosen a brilliant theme for the game. Lets just hope the gameplay isn't too frustrating!

● Virgin will release a CD version of Another World at Christmas. The title will feature two adventures, the first based on the 'original Mega Drive game, the second with a completely different quest. Some ultra slick cinema sequences have been incorporated into the adventure as well as brilliant use of the CD's scaling and rotoscoping abilities.

● Virgin are also working on a platform game called Fire and Ice, due to be released across all formats. The title has already proved very successful on the Amiga and is fairly similar to Rainbow Islands. At the moment, each version has over 30 levels, but Virgin are working on incorporating even more. Look out for a finished version by March 1994.

● Accolade have signed up American superstar Charles Barkley to appear in their next basketball game. Barkley is co-designing the game although it is unknown exactly how much influence he has over the product. The finished version

NEWSFLASH... The next budget may effect you more than you know. The chancellor intends to slap 17.5% VAT onto the price of magazines, books and newspapers. This means that SegaPro could end up costing £2.60. But, if only that was true. Concessions to paper and print manufacturers could also be stopped – meaning that it would cost us more to publish the magazine. This could add even more onto that £2.60 price... STOP should appear in the first quarter of 1994. They are also developing an American football game, starring famous player, Mike Ditka. Again, this will appear in the first quarter of 1994.

● Domark are developing a title exclusively for the Game Gear, due to be released in April of next year. Pinball Wizard offers hand held owners five different pinball games and has been developed by Domark's expert programming team, the Kremlin. Each game will also include many sub-games and bonus levels.

● Electronic Arts are well known for producing brilliant games, but their latest move seems a little odd. Top titles such as John Madden's are to be enhanced, then released into the arcades. Why? This is anyone's guess, but EA reckon that it's going to be a very successful venture. Many of their machines won't be released in traditional arcades as EA are aiming to attract the older customer – if such a thing exists.

FAR OUT, MAN!

Codemasters' latest mascot, Cosmic Spacehead has been causing quite a stir in showbiz circles. Among the famous people visiting Codemasters' stand at the ECTS were spoof pop group Bjorn Again. It seemed that the masters of kitsch found a lot in common with the world's first alien tourist and became instantly addicted to the game. The group visited the stand to record a kitsch special for Sky TV's Gamesmaster spin off, Gamesworld and almost had to be dragged away from the game!

Other famous people that visited Cosmic for a playtest were Joe McGann, Blue Peter's Andi Peters and controversial pop group, CNN.

Although Bruce Lee has been dead for over twenty years, he is still remembered as the most dynamic martial artist of all time. Come to mention it, you'd have thought he would have appeared in his own video game long ago. Well, Virgin are currently making up for lost time by producing a new title called Dragon. The game features Bruce Lee and will tie in with a film version of his life. Thankfully, it won't be another boring beat-'em-up, but will be a one-on-one Street Fighter clone. Bruce will face up to 12 opponents and the game's unique feature is that three fighters can compete at once. There are 36 different fighting moves and among Bruce's opponents are his age old enemies, the Sun Brothers and the Oriental Fan fighter.

Project manager Peter Hickman boasts that the game will push the Mega Drive to its limits. He claims that it's the biggest beat-'em-up ever and that they are working on slowing the game down at the moment as it runs too fast! Special techniques are also being used to compress 30Mbit of information into a 16Mbit cartridge. Peter isn't giving everything away, though – the game includes many secret moves and cheats.

Dragon is scheduled for an early 1994 release, but look out for a preview in a forthcoming issue.

NEWS SUPER STREET FIGHTER II?

What's this? MORE Street Fighter II? The Mega Drive version hasn't even been released in the shops yet, but Capcom are already working on their fifth street fighting episode. Super Street Fighter II includes all the original fighters, but this time, four new challengers will join the tournament. Dee Jay is a prize fighter from Jamaica, Feilong is a Chinese martial artist, Thunder Hawk is a native American wrestler and Cammy is a British special agent. Existing characters have been given extra moves and Q sound has been incorporated to give totally realistic sound to the tournament. At the moment, this is only planned for release in the arcades, but no doubt it will make its way on to cart soon. In the meantime though, look out for official Street Fighter II merchandise, due to hit the shops any day now.

SONIC SPIN OFF

Why oh why do people insist on bringing out Sonic spin-off products? A few months ago, we had a Sonic RPG book. This month, it's yet another book. Sonic the Hedgehog in Robotnik's Laboratory is published by Virgin Publishing and aims to give young children an incentive to read. Virgin hopes that by using a character as popular as Sonic, kids will see reading as a "cool" pastime. Virgin are planning to release a whole series of Sonic books and shortly after Robotnik's Laboratory, Sonic the Hedgehog in the Fourth Dimension will appear in the shops.

As yet, there has been no price fixed for the books, although they will definitely be under a fiver.

● Sonic in Robotnik's Laboratory is available in all good book shops now.

NEED FOR SPEED

Accolade are currently enjoying huge success with their most accessible character yet, Bubsy the Bobcat. However, during the end months of this year and the beginning of next year, they're hoping to boost their profile considerably. They've just bagged a licence with Speed Racer, the most popular children's cartoon in America. Developed for release in the first part of next year, The Challenge of Racer X aims to bring the cartoon to the Mega Drive. You assume the role of Speed Racer, a courageous teenage racing driver. To win the race, you'll have to compete with the likes of Captain Terror, Snake Oil and the Gang of Assassins. You'll also encounter the mysterious Racer X, who is your most feared rival. Each race is based on a different cartoon episode and Accolade claim that over 40 million people are familiar with the cartoon (funny, I've never heard of it). The Challenge of Racer X aims to be the most original racing game of 1994. You won't be seeing the review until at least December, but look out for an extensive preview next month.

ONE AND ONLY

Only in SEGA PRO will you find an exclusive report on Time Dominator 1st, the latest Sonic clone for the Mega Drive. The aim of the game is to travel through each of the various levels – split into zones – and collect lightening bolts, extra lives, etc. Then, find the bonus stage to notch up an even higher score. Your character, clad in a T-shirt and shorts, is a robotic time traveller stuck in time, trying desperately to escape and find his time machine.

If there has ever been a game that resembles Sonic the Hedgehog and could be seen as a complete rip-off, it is this one. The zones match Sonic in every way you could imagine – they even had the nerve to call one of them the Emerald Forest Zone! Quite how Sega is going to play this one is unknown, but you can be sure that if Time Dominator 1st plays as well as it looks, Sonic could be in serious trouble!

As a bonus stage, there is the so called Time Trial course that you will be able to enter should you collect enough lightening bolts. The general idea is to notch up a record time, but there could be changes as and when it is released by Vic Tokai.

There is one other factor to the game that should be pointed out – it's incredibly easy to finish! Apparently, this is only the second release from Vic Tokai and it features a special Time Trial mode that allows you to play through all seven levels with comparative ease. It is as fast as Sonic, but there are some challenging aspects and there's more to discover. Watch out for this release around Christmas.

SHOOT-'EM-UPS

Game Gear fans this is the one you have been waiting for; a follow-up to the brilliant GG Aleste. As there are so many GG players out there, here is a special Japan News feature on the soon to be released GG Aleste 2!

This vertically scrolling arcade-style shoot-'em-up boasts six massive stages to battle through and more pick-ups than ever before. That's what you are going to get with this, what may be the greatest handheld shoot-'em-up.

At the end of a game, you are given a hit and miss rating as well as a score and bonus rundown. The best feature is the 3-D graphics. They are at their most impressive when it comes to fighting end of level guardians. The guardians are almost half-screen size and add to the overall challenge of the game. Fortunately, four special weapons are available and they are found at various stages.

If you enjoyed the original GG Aleste and you're a particular shoot-'em-up fan, this must be high on your Christmas shopping list. Expect to see this in local importers over the next couple of months and a full review in our Christmas edition of SEGA PRO.

SHOOTING STAR

THREE DEE WIZARD

Programmers who worked on a popular arcade game, Cotton, are now in the process of completing a 16Mbit shoot-'em-up. Panorama Cotton, a direct conversion from the arcade smash, is hoped to be the best release of its kind by the Japanese games players. As with all good shoot-'em-ups, if it does come up to scratch it could well be released officially.

The main programmer worked on the production of Star Wars - X68000, a wire-frame coin-op which you may remember from the Eighties. His experience within the three-dimensional area of games programming should make Panorama Cotton something spectacular to look at, and hopefully a blast to play.

As with all good shoot-'em-ups, there are numerous power-ups and bonuses to collect. Cotton or Silk is one such power-up and with various controls you can guide your shot as it flies in the air. Thunderforce fans will remember the speed control method that is especially useful when flying through deadly caverns and the like - well, that's to be included too.

MILE HIGH FOUR-PLAY

The first multi-player air-combat simulation, Air Warrior, is soon to be released in Japan, and it's sure to find its way over here. Taking you back to the days of Spitfires and Messerschmitts, dog fighting on your Mega Drive is set to be more realistic than ever before. Softbank is the company responsible for what can only be a stunning game that we hope to see released officially.

● If you're feeling thirsty why not crack open a can of SegaSonic The Hedgehog Power Vita-11 Water. It appears that people are going crazy over hedgehog water and can't get enough of it and now there's Sonic cola and spring water to refresh you while battling against Robotnik.

● Street Fighter II mania hit the city of Kokugikan with the Street Fighter II Turbo Championship '93. A massive exhibition centre was transformed into a pit of sweat and turmoil as hundreds of competitors battled it out for recognition as SFI Turbo champion, not to mention one or two Capcom goodies. Watch out for the UK equivalent to be held at the RollerExpress in London soon.

● If you thought Night Trap was gruesome, wait until you see the latest Psychic Detective Series game - Orgel. The CD-Rom role-play looks very similar to our very own Sherlock Holmes stories, but features traditional Jap cartoon animation rather than the FMV.

● Shining Force II, the most eagerly awaited RPG this year, is now finished. A 16Mbit cartridge has been used to cram in absolutely loads of games playing fun, especially for fans of the original. With any luck we'll have a full review next month, but the Japanese text makes it unplayable to all but the most patient English speaking gamers.

COMING TO SEGA SYSTEMS

Feast your eyes over the next four pages to see what will be hot in the next few months. If you need some information about up and coming releases, then read on. You won't find a more comprehensive guide anywhere.

PIRATES! GOLD

MICROPROSE • OUT OCTOBER • £39.99 • 8Mbit

Ever fancied being a pirate? Well, here's your chance! Pirates! Gold is set in the 17th Century, where swashbuckling and pillaging is the norm. Taking charge of a pirate ship, you'll have to navigate your way across turbulent seas in search of treasure. Besides exploring islands and discovering treasure, you'll have to fight off other jewel-hungry outlaws. Your ultimate aim is to build a healthy career in piracy, marry the daughter of a rich governor and retire with lots of land and money.

There are many special missions to complete in the adventure, with bags of booty allocated to the winner. You win treasure by defeating an opponent's army or by blagging it out of provincial governors. If all goes well, this could be one of the most original titles of the year.

CJ - ELEPHANT FUGITIVE

CODEMASTERS • OUT NOVEMBER • £32.99 • 2Mbit

CJ is a full-grown elephant who has been kidnapped from his herd in Africa. He's been transported to an English zoo, but, not surprisingly, he's less than keen on his new home. He spends months planning his escape and one night he manages to break through the bars of his cage. Armed with only a few reinforced peanuts, he sets off to find his home. His adventure takes him through six different countries, each with three stages and a level guardian. It's a platform based adventure, but there will be some puzzle elements included. To get home, he'll have to battle through Europe, the Middle East and further! This title is being developed exclusively for the Master System and Game Gear. It's already shaping up well, so expect to see a spectacular debut in November!

STELLAR FIRE

SIERRA • OUT DECEMBER • £39.99 • CD

After a disappointing debut into CD games with Willy Beamish, Sierra are planning to release a spectacular shoot-'em-up very soon. Taking command of a highly sophisticated spaceship, it's your job to destroy the evil empire. Your ultimate aim is to battle with the master of evil, Gir Daxon. Stellar Fire features traditional blast-'em-up action, but Sierra stress that the look and feel of the game is totally original. Although the programmers have been concentrating on producing breathtaking 3D gameplay, much more emphasis has been placed on producing sophisticated sprite and enemy images. Although no film footage has been included in the game, 3D modelling was used to create realistic cinematic sequences.

POWERMONGER

ELECTRONIC ARTS • OUT DECEMBER • ETBA • CD

The Mega Drive version of Powermonger was a viable alternative to Populous and was very popular with strategy fans. The Mega-CD version plans to expand on the Mega Drive adventure, for a more up to date release. The screen has been expanded by 30% and there is an extra rotating perspective on the Powermonger world. However, it seems that the actual gameplay will remain the same. Powermonger CD also includes a fully digitised soundtrack, but since the majority of the gameplay is based around single noises, it may not add much to the game's atmosphere.

TINHEAD

MICROPROSE • OUT NOVEMBER • £39.99 • 8Mbit

This title will only be released on import. However, don't expect this to be an obscure game. Tinhead is a mild-mannered bucket of rust, who just happens to have Grim Squidge as his arch-enemy. Squidge has stolen all the stars from the sky and it's Tinhead's job to retrieve them. There are four worlds to collect stars in, each with a number of sub-levels. As well as traditional arcade gameplay, there are many secret levels and a couple of bonus stages too.

Tinhead isn't an extra tough games star – quite the opposite. His only defence is to spit metal ping pong balls at his opponents. However, they are very effective and allow him to blast his way through the levels. He also has other tools to help him. By jumping on the Power packs, Tinhead will be propelled into the air. Here, he can bounce on space hoppers, collect unicycles, use rocket packs and hover with helicopter rotors. Microprose are boasting that this is one of the fastest platform games ever, look out for it!

MUTANT LEAGUE HOCKEY

ELECTRONIC ARTS • OUT DECEMBER • ETBA • 16Mbit

No-one could ever accuse EA of failing to make the best of their titles. We've heard of flogging a dead horse, but things are starting to get a little ridiculous down at the Arts HQ. After re-releasing EA Hockey for the third time, they're now changing the graphics and calling it Mutant League Hockey. The pitch may look different and there are some nasty monsters to avoid, but don't be fooled. This could merely be a glorified version of a game we've seen so many times before. Okay, there will be some people who will love it, but anyone who has bought any of EA's hockey games may find little of interest. However, it uses the four-player tap and with 16Mbit of memory, at least the graphics should be good.

KAWASAKI SUPERBIKES

DOMARK • OUT MAY 1994 • ETBA • 16Mbit

After launching the hugely successful F1, Domark are now teaming up with another big sporting name. Kawasaki Superbikes is being produced in conjunction with Kawasaki, to ensure that total accuracy and realism are incorporated into the game. There are 14 international tracks to compete on, with four different difficulty levels. Although this will primarily be released on the Mega Drive, Master System and Game Gear versions will follow shortly after. This is yet another release to feature 16Mbit of memory, so expect to see something even more spectacular than Road Rash.

LOTUS TURBO CHALLENGE II

ELECTRONIC ARTS • OUT DECEMBER • ETBA • 8Mbit

This was one of the fastest and most realistic racing games of 1992 and has had continued popularity throughout this year. EA couldn't resist the chance of a sequel and have added some novel features for this episode. Actual gameplay remains, largely the same, but a head-to-head racing option has been included.

This means that action will be more competitive than ever! If you thought that the original version was too easy, then it's likely that the sequel won't hold much in the way of challenge either. However, EA have also included an option that lets you design your own course, raising challenge and interest levels.

MARKO'S MAGIC FOOTBALL

DOMARK • MARCH 1994 • ETBA • ALL SYSTEMS

Domark are celebrating ten years in the computer games industry this year, so to mark the occasion they are developing a flagship character. The character in question is Marko, a ten year old boy. Marko lives in a cartoon world and as in all cartoon worlds, anything is possible. All Marko wants to do is play football with his friends, but his nasty mum has locked him in his bedroom. Marko sneaks out, but soon realises that the outside world isn't always friendly. Marko has 100 enemies out to get him, all of them have to be destroyed if he wants to play in the park.

There are ten levels in this adventure, all with different graphics and themes. Marko himself has over 300 frames of animation. This adventure aims to be an interactive cartoon and from what we've seen so far, it looks absolutely stunning. Although the Mega Drive version is still in its initial development stages, the graphics are outstanding and as this is Domark's flagship game, expect to see something very special.

DUNE II

VIRGIN • OUT 1994 • £TBA • 16Mbit

Dune II is based on the same planet as the original story, but this time the plot is very different. The Emperor of Arrakis has laid down a challenge for the galaxy's three ruling houses – the Harkonnen, the Atreides and the Ordos. To win the Emperor's challenge, one side must prove they are capable of dominating Dune. Gameplay is strategy based, with many opportunities for real-time wars. In addition to fighting enemies, your troops will have to manage the production of Spice, the most valuable substance in the universe. You'll also have to train your armies and take charge of weapons supply. Although this will definitely please strategy fans, not all elements of the adventure are predictable. Fremen outlaws strike terrorist attacks without warning and your opponents have a whole host of unpredictable weapons and combat tactics. Although Virgin have released strategy games such as Two Tribes in the past, they claim this is a very different type of strategy game. It has an accessible interface (oh yeah?) and manages to keep you on the edge of your seat.

YOUR DEMONSTRATION OF MILITARY SKILLS NOW FORCES US TO ASSIGN YOU TO ANOTHER OFFENSIVE CAMPAIGN AGAINST HOUSE HARKONNEN.

JOHN MADDEN 94

ELECTRONIC ARTS • OUT NOVEMBER • £49.99 • 16Mbit

Aaargh! EA have decided to release John Madden again! Surely everyone who wanted this game would have bought it by now? EA claim that this version has new graphics and a new game engine, but it looks fairly similar to us! EA haven't mentioned anything about any new player moves though so if our suspicions are correct, this is almost the same tired game in different packaging. However this version does have a battery back up and can be used with the four player tap – which at this stage, is the only thing it has going for it.

VIRTUAL PINBALL

ELECTRONIC ARTS • OUT DECEMBER • £44.99 • 8Mbit

Pinball games are all very well, but once you've played them for a while, they tend to lose their appeal. EA, famous for their innovative games, have something new to offer pinball fans. In Virtual Pinball, there are a number of preset pinball games to play, but the player can also construct their own game. Once constructed, the games can be saved for play at a later date. Up to four players can play pinball, but the game doesn't utilise the four-player tap. Constructing your own pinball game is an original concept, but that's not the only reason that this is a unique release. The game will be featured every week on Children's TV show, Parallel 9. Children can phone the show and play the game through a touch tone telephone.

TMHT: TOURNAMENT FIGHTERS

KONAMI • OUT NOVEMBER • £TBA • 16Mbit

Mortal Kombat has hit the streets and for now it's managed to steal the beat-'em-up spotlight. How long it will last, isn't too difficult to predict – Street Fighter II should be with us very, very soon. However, Mortal Kombat may have another rival. The Teenage Mutant Hero Turtles are back with their second attack on the Mega Drive. The action is still based on a beat-'em-up, although the game format is totally different. This time, the turtles face their enemies through one-on-one fighting tournaments. All the turtles' arch enemies appear in the game, as well as a few more too. Konami have kept this product fairly low profile, so it doesn't seem that they are looking to contend with the two beat-'em-up greats. However, all the turtles have their own special moves, as do their opponents.

SONIC CHAOS

SEGA • OCTOBER • £TBA • 4Mbit

It seems a long time ago now when the Sega mascot was born after two huge best selling Sonic the hedgehog releases. Sonic Chaos is set to be released on the MS version as the third addition to the Sonic series giving the blue hedgehog a third adventure and an overall MS trilogy of super-fast platform action.

According to Sega the finished version will include more baddies because at present the game content lacks these – making the challenge far too easy. The graphics and sound look promising with the Sonic Sprite blessed with a large frame and a fair amount of detail and the backgrounds creating the typically Sonic type of world. The guardians are much larger and if anything the battle with Robotnik is a lot tougher.

We can expect to see the final version very soon and even though this is a third Sonic release for the MS, it's unlikely to be seen as a 'Sonic III' because there are no plans for a Sonic Chaos release on the MD. However MS owners should wait in anticipation of another classic Sonic adventure.

BEASTBALL MICROPROSE • OUT 1994 • £39.99 • 8Mbit

This is based on traditional American football, but it seems to have more in common with EA's Mutant League football. Based in 2089, eight teams of man-mutants battle for the first place in the Beastball championships. The aim is to score as many goals as you can, in the most bizarre way possible. Don't worry about hurting your opponent, the object is to do them as much damage as possible. There are many traps and power ups littered around the play area, as well as deadly weapons! If your whole team is obliterated at the end of a match, there is a special workshop to rebuild each player. You don't need money to do this, so as long as you win, keeping your players in the best health isn't crucial. So far, novelty titles such as this haven't been hugely successful, but even if you're a heavy fan of sport games, it should raise a few laughs.

IMPOSSIBLE MISSION

THE LOST VIKINGS

VIRGIN • OUT 1994 • ETBA • 16Mbit

As this was huge a huge hit on the SNES, it was only a matter of time before it appeared on the Mega Drive. This is essentially a puzzler, although there are strategy and platform elements in the game too. The adventure features three bumbling Vikings who have been warped to an alien dimension. To return to their Viking times, they must escape from the alien ship. Each Viking has a special talent and together, the three comrades are able to manoeuvre the maze of rooms and levels. There are 37 levels in all and a save option is included.

The beauty of this adventure is that it offers a challenge to novices and experts alike. Puzzles begin with very simple solutions, but soon become brain-straining. However, there are clues at regular intervals, to help any baffled game players. Check out Balrog the Fierce, Erik the Swift and Olaf the Stout in the early months of next year.

cial agents and begin your search for Atombender. His skyscraper is littered robots and droids, all out to kill. Atombender can be located at the very top of the skyscraper, but to reach him you'll have to search for secret circuit boards, allowing you access to higher levels.

Each of the three fighters has special abilities, although all are capable of crushing the evil Elvin. Tasha is a hyper gymnast.

Felix Fly is a riot ranger and RAM 2 is a renegade robot. Impossible Mission first appeared on home computer formats such as the C64 many moons ago, but was obviously superseded by games on better machines. Microprose have vastly improved on the original, but as a special treat to fans, one of the sub levels includes the original game.

AV-8B HARRIER ASSAULT DOMARK • OUT 1994 • ETBA • CD

This originally appeared on the PC, but this flight sim has been upgraded and altered to suit the Mega-CD. This is the first CD title that Domark are developing and they're boasting that it will be the fastest flight sim ever. There are many digitised sequences in the game and the sim features state-of-the-art 3D graphics. There are five missions to complete, each becoming increasingly more difficult. To help you along, there are training missions and many different cockpit displays. This won't appear until at least spring of next year, so more information as it comes.

FEATURE

"A journey of ambition, challenge and creation" is the slogan Sunsoft of Japan imprint on all their employees brains. Little is known of this Japanese giant in the UK, but they're the fourth largest software developer in the world. Founded in 1983, under the name Kit Corporation, the company began to create arcade games. Ten years on, they've bought up a whole library of Looney Tune titles and are moving into the Mega Drive market. Sam Hickman takes a look at their latest company mascot, Aero the Acrobat.

● Wheeee! The fun you can have just jumping up and down! Aero shows off in true superstar style.

Sunsoft may not mean much to the average Mega Drive owner now, but in a few months their games will be hot property. To date, most of their releases have been aimed at the NES and the SNES market, but they have released a few Mega Drive titles too. Their launch product was the infamous Lemmings. They then released Superman, followed by Batman: Revenge of the Joker, which blew the UK version of Batman into oblivion.

Sunsoft are hoping that 1993 will be a big year for them. They have numerous Mega Drive titles under development, many of them created in conjunction with Warner Bros. The two companies have worked together since 1988, when Sunsoft acquired the rights to the NES version of Batman. Among their Mega Drive titles for 1993 are both Daffy Duck and Bugs Bunny, perhaps the most famous cartoon character of all time.

Although the Warner Bros licence may be a one way ticket to success, Sunsoft have even bigger projects on the way. They have been searching for a company mascot for some time now and when Aero the Acrobat was suggested, Sunsoft knew he would be the perfect choice. This guy has more charisma than Sonic the Hedgehog (yes, it is possible!) and is about to star in his own adventure.

GAMEPLAN

Aero the Acrobat is the biggest star in the circus. When he performs his astounding stunts, the ringside crowd look on in amazement. However, Aero is no modest artiste. He knows he's the best and his obvious arrogance is all part of his star act.

Unfortunately, there may be one challenge that Aero can't handle. Edgar Ektor is an evil human determined to close down circuses worldwide. As a young lad, Ektor lived in harmony with a travelling circus. After a while, he became bored with the travellers' life and began to play evil tricks on other performers. He was then banished from the big top and forbidden from entering again.

Now that Ektor has grown up, his bitterness towards the circus hasn't softened. He's still determined to

AERO BAT

- Ever since he was a young bat, Aero has been performing in the circus. He's managed to work his way up through the ranks and is now the star of the show. Now, if there's one thing he loves more than himself, it's the sound of an ecstatic audience!

- Aero demonstrates his untouchable balancing talents. If he falls, Ektor's cronies will get the better of him.

destroy any Big Top he comes across and that includes Aero's. Ektor has planted many booby traps around the circus ringside. As Aero performs stunning tricks, the traps are just waiting to explode. If they're not discovered in time, the whole circus will blow sky high and Aero will never be seen again.

The main objective of the adventure is to destroy the explosives, but Aero will also have to keep his acrobatic talents up to scratch. He'll have to perform his amazing sky dives, flips, flying and his cannonball act if he wants to succeed. Although this is essentially a run-of-the-mill platform adventure, stunning animation and totally unique gameplay should

- He flies through the air with the greatest of ease....well sort of. Aero doesn't look too steady on this unicycle and he's trying his best to avoid Ektor's minions. This shouldn't be too difficult as he's such a super-bat.

- Every time Aero manages to get to the end of a level, he'll get a chance to gain extra points. To do this he has to perform extra-special stunts and tricks. Cannon-balling through the hoop is just one of his special talents.

This big wheel may look like great fun, but it's much faster than any you'd find at a real fair. If Aero wasn't such a brilliant circus performer, he'd probably feel quite queasy. Aero can't spend all his time on the fair rides, though - he's got much more important things to do. After all, who else will save the circus if Aero won't?

LEAPS AND BOUNDS

Sunsoft of America's Director of Product Development, David Siller, took a few minutes out of his busy schedule to answer a few questions about Aero the Acrobat.

How did you first get into this industry?

When Pong was invented, my brother and I persuaded our dad to invest in coin-ops. I quickly learned how to repair these and soon began to build my own games. This led me into my career and I began designing software in 1980. After working for several companies, I finally ended up with Sunsoft.

Have games always been your hobby?

Yes! I am a true diehard gamer and believe I have played more games than anyone else in North America! I eat, sleep and think video games 24 hours a day.

Who created Aero the Acrobat?

I created Aero myself and after discussions with Sega we began to develop the game. Once Aero was in development, excitement grew and we decided that this dynamic little bat was our new company mascot!

Can you sum up Aero?

He is totally dynamic, a gifted performer and a natural acrobat. He champions a good cause and is not afraid to confront overwhelming odds. He's gentle tolerant and understanding, but on no account get on the wrong side of him. His attitude will punch you straight in the face!

Aero is essentially a Japanese character, but will he appeal to a UK audience?

Aero, the game, will appeal to everyone, everywhere! It has fabulous gameplay techniques that are always changing. Since games players love great games, they will naturally be drawn to Aero. Besides, cute characters based on furry little creatures definitely seem to be popular in the UK.

It's been mentioned that Aero is a character for the Nintendo. Why is this?

He is a reflection of the world that produced him. He is strong, yet reserved in his use of force. Although he's for preservation of peace, he will not tire in his pursuit of justice.

Is there a sequel planned?

Yes! We've already started work on a sequel as well as a spin off. We intend to carry on making Aero adventures as long as game players want them.

make Aero the Acrobat a huge success. Sunsoft have ensured that although this is primarily a Japanese release, it will appeal to games players from all over the world.

PROS

Aero the Acrobat intends to take all the best elements from existing successes such as Sonic, to create the best gaming character ever. Where most games tend to take one aspect of gameplay as their selling point, this aims to have several. Aero has a number of animations and can flip, dive fly, ride and be fired from a cannonball. He also gets a chance to participate in a bungee jump, as well as a roller coaster ride, water slides and fairground rides. The game focuses on a humorous theme and, thus, should appeal to players of all ages.

Although Aero's main enemy is Edgar Ektor, there are plenty of other nasties to contend with. There are end-of-level guardians – each needing different skills to conquer. Once you've defeated the guardian, you will have the opportunity to perform special stunts for extra points.

Sunsoft have also released plans to launch a range of Aero-related products. It's uncertain whether these will be released in the UK initially, but once the Aero bandwagon starts rolling, it's certainly a possibility!

As Sunsoft have decided to use Aero as their flagship character, it's bound to be a brilliant release. Anything less than excellent would be pointless for the company. The whole point of Aero is that he will set the standard for Sunsoft's future releases.

PROPLAY

With only a short playtest at the CES in Chicago earlier in the year, we can report that this game impressed us so much that we've been hounding Sunsoft for information ever since. Aero is fast and his incredibly arrogant and cheeky character is presented well. The little sprite reminds us of that cheeky little know-it-all kid who thinks he's the best thing since sliced bread!

Originality is depicted in the circus theme, with lots of bouncing and jumping on trampolines and the like. Sunsoft are obviously pleased with themselves, and on first impressions, so they should be. We can only wait for the finished cart to appear.

AERO THE ACROBAT

This is Sunsoft's HQ in Japan. Most of their games are developed there, including Aero the Acrobat!

Don't be put off by the menacing appearance of this tunnel, it's not half as hard as it looks. This level is rather like a roller coaster, even if it looks more like the ghost train. However, don't expect it to be a Sunday afternoon ride!

DONE

TO DO

The 1994 Winter Olympics are looming on the horizon and as you would expect, a video game tie in is in the pipeline. It follows the real Olympics down to minute details, and features ten events. UK developers US Gold are producing the title, so Sam Hickman donned her woolly hat and mitts, and visited the northern climes of Birmingham to see what all the fuss is about.

● We're all going on a summer holiday! Er, except this is winter and we're about to participate in the Olympics. This cross country skiing event may not look very exciting, but believe me, for those participating, it's absolutely riveting.

The Olympics used to be an event that brought the world's best athletes together, regardless of politics or money. As the years have passed, countries have boycotted the event and the Olympics have come to represent big bucks. The amount of money involved in sponsorship is phenomenal and otherwise penniless athletes can make a pretty penny out of sportswear manufacturers.

US Gold have already made a considerable fortune from the 1992 Olympics. Olympic Gold sold over one million copies worldwide, raking in a retail value of over £30 million. In some countries, it was just as popular as Sega's flagship character, Sonic! Due to its huge success, US Gold had no problems when it came to obtain the licence from Norway for the 1994 Winter Olympics. They were the obvious choice!

The game will be released across all Sega formats and includes all ten winter Olympic events. Although the actual Olympics don't begin until February, US Gold hope to have all four versions of the game ready by December – just in time to put it on your Christmas list!

PROS

Unlike Olympic Gold and Summer Challenge, this cartridge is has a 16Mbit memory. This means that the programmers should be able to develop realistic gameplay much more easily. US Gold have spent the majority of development time perfecting sprite movement which has been a major problem with previous sports sims. The game also claims to run much faster than sims of the past, which is another problem with this type of release.

All versions of the title revolve around the same game format. There are ten events to compete in: Down Hill Skiing, Super G, Giant Slalom, Slalom, Freestyle Moguls, Ski Jumping, Bob Sleigh, Luge, Bob and Short Track Speed Skating. On starting the game, you'll be treated to a brief history of the Winter Olympic games, with a map of Lillehammer.

Eight different languages can be selected, including Lillehammer's native language, Norwegian. After these formalities, three more options can be selected. The player can either choose to train, play the mini Olympics or the full size Olympics. If you select the mini Olympics, you won't be subjected to the lengthy opening ceremonies and you can choose only the events you want to compete in. There are also three different skill levels – club, national and Olympic.

Up to four players can compete in every event, although competitors will have to take it in turns to participate in an

● This is speed skating, where the object of the event is to spin round the track several times until you're very dizzy.

ER PIC ES

event
- unfortunately, this doesn't use the four player tap. However, there is a head-to-head option on both the short track speed racing and the freestyle moguls. Even though this will probably offer you more of a challenge than the usual one-player option, there are other incentives to win the events. If you come in the top three, you'll win the appropriate medal. Personal bests and all Olympic Records are recorded in the game, so if you break a record, you'll go down in history!

PROPLAY

It's difficult to say how this game will compare to other sports sims such as Summer Challenge or Winter Challenge. The graphics are certainly better than Accolade's game (although this is over one and a half years old), but the most important factor in this type of release is the gameplay.

Comparing it to US Gold's previous Olympic release, Olympic Gold, this seems to be a vast improvement. The graphics are much more realistic and since US Gold used real athletes to perfect sprite movement, the gameplay should be better too. This is a game that's going to suit armchair sports fans down to the ground. So far, sports sims haven't been too successful on the Mega Drive as while they always seem to be visually pleasing, they are often let down by unrealistic controls and slow gameplay. However, with such an important tie-in, maybe this time the software developers will get it right.

Battle it out against the computer to become the speediest ski-er in the world. Personally, can't really see the fun in these competitions, but it definitely holds lots of challenge.

Maybe if I crouch down very low, I can ski my way into the Mountain Ranger's front room. For those of you who don't know, this house is actually one of the obstacles in the race. Ski around it to receive extra points.

Wheee! This is the event for ultimate show-offs! The better your stunts, the more points you'll get!

REVIEW SYSTEM

INTRODUCTION

Just a quick rundown of the story behind the game. Usually a quick resumé of what the inlay says – but not as boring.

ProVIEW

The real meat of the review. Here you can find out what we think of every single element of the game. We'll walk you through the game, talking about the graphics, sound, how it plays, and interesting things you may encounter. This is the most informative part of the whole review.

ProTIPS

Just a small slice of help that should make your first few minutes of play less frustrating and hopefully a lot more fun.

Profile

All the info you'll need. The phone number given is of the main supplier in the UK and who the Pros got the game from. If the game's on import only, it'll contain an importer's phone number only.

The Action/Strategy bar reflects how much strategical element is in the game – it does not mean that the game is a strategy game – you have to read the review comments to discover a game's category.

ProScore

We pick out the good and bad points for graphics, sound, gameplay and challenge. While a game may score highly on graphics and sound, it may severely lack in playability. If this is the case, the scores will reflect it. The overall ProScore is calculated from our final opinion of the game, taking into consideration every single factor – including price! This is not an average of any score.

ProYo!

A ProYo! is awarded to any game which receives a rating of 90% or over. Any game which does fall into this prestigious category should definitely be in your collection.

MASTER GEAR

Every Master System review features a section which details how the game played on the Game Gear through the Master Gear convertor. Are the graphics visible, etc.

I WANT A SECOND OPINION

Each game review's score is awarded on the game's own abilities; on how well it was programmed, how well it plays and what it offers the gameplayer. Although the Pros award scores, what we say in the reviews gives you more information to what the strengths and weaknesses of a game are.

By reading the review, you can make a decision whether the game is for you. To help you do this, we have included the second opinion comments. That means that you get the views of not only the reviewer, but also another Pro who thinks that the game might suit them. The opinions give the view of someone interested enough to have a look at a decent game.

IMPORTS

If you want to get games on import, then there are a few points worth remembering which mostly concern the type of machine you own and the games that will run on it.

Japanese machines will run all UK, USA and Asian cartridges, providing they don't have the notorious "PAL lock" on them.

UK machines will play UK and USA carts without any problems, but can't play Japanese carts without an adaptor. Also, some Jap carts will only produce a picture through the AV socket on the back of the Mega Drive. This means that they can only be played on a SCART TV or a monitor.

The obvious disadvantages with import games become apparent when you try and play a Japanese RPG when you can't speak the lingo! However, shoot-'em-ups, beat-'em-ups and platform games need very little in the way of instructions, so these should be okay.

STREET FIGHTER

SPECIAL CHAMPION EDITION

MEGA DRIVE

Ryu, Chun-Li, M Bison and Blanka have long been household names for games players. Their unmatched bravery in the toughest 'no holds barred' combat tournament has made them worldwide stars. The boxing skills of Balrog, the grace of Vega and the power of Zangief are also well known, but until now Mega Drive owners have been left out of the proceedings.

If you've paid your entrance fee to this year's World Street Fighter Championships, isn't it about time we started things running? The competitors are psyched up, their adrenaline is rushing and the crowds are chanting for their favourite hero. This is the battle of the giants. No longer do proud Mega Drive owners have to grin and bear the hard truth that the SNES is the only home console with Street Fighter II.

Mortal Monday has passed and now the world's best, Capcom, can come out and show us what a one-on-one fighting game should really look like. The dedicated team have been working around the clock for months and at long last the finished version is going to hit the streets on Monday 18 October. Now the SNES is destined to pale into insignificance as the greatest fighting game ever arrives on the Mega Drive.

Unless you have been hiding underneath a rock, you'll already know that Street Fighter II is the biggest arcade game ever. It's also one of the top-selling console games ever. Now the Sega conversion is finally here, it's expected to be the best beat-'em-up release yet on the Mega Drive.

Firstly, a guide to what the idea of the game is and how to play it. The objective in one-player mode is to defeat each of the 12 fighters in a best-of-three-bouts contest by repeatedly hitting them until their energy bar runs out. Win and you progress to the next fighter. Defeat them all to win the tournament and complete the game.

To add a little spice to the game there are special moves and bonus stages. The special moves – each character has either three or four – are produced using often-complicated joystick combinations. Fireballs, weapons, powerful punches and devastating kicks are available: in fact, all the moves on the arcade machine have been included.

You come across the first bonus stage after defeating the fourth fighter. A car must be smashed to bits before the on-screen timer runs out – you're awarded bonus points depending on how fast you do it. The second bonus stage, after defeating the eighth fighter, is a pyramid of bricks that must be destroyed for more bonus points.

The options screen at the start of the game allows you to change the difficulty level, toggle special moves on/off and listen to the music, etc. You can then choose from a Standard Game, V.S. Fight (the standard two-player game) or Battle Mode.

PRO TIP

Learn by playing through the game on the easiest setting first. As you learn the special moves and attack combinations, increase the difficulty accordingly.

ZANGIEF

ZANGIEF — A Russian powerhouse who trained in the Siberian mountains, Zangief enjoys throwing his weight about. The Spinning Piledriver move takes off half an opponent's energy bar!

M. BISON

M. BISON — Not one for taking torment, Bison is both feared and hated by everyone. The Flaming Torpedo simply toasts any opponent and leaves them without a leg to stand on.

SAGAT

SAGAT — Ryu is his greatest enemy and with a chest the size of a bus it takes more than a couple of Dragon Punches to finish him off. Scarred, but not scared, Sagat will take on any challenger.

BALROG

BALROG — Once a World Champion boxer he now puts his handiwork to use on the streets. Limited moves steer Balrog clear of unnecessary kicking, but hard-hitting punches make up for this.

VEGA

VEGA — Le Poseur, an agile and fit fighter who knows the trickery and tactics to confuse his opponents. His greatest weakness is the inability to stop posing, and this can be fatal.

THE POSSE

Here's a complete lowdown on each of the characters. Next month, we'll print a playing guide including everything you could possibly need to know.

E. HONDA

E HONDA — One of the most powerful Sumo masters in the world, this is a man with both good and bad points. He is incredibly slow, but a lethal 100 Hand Slap more than makes up for this.

CHUN-LI

CHUN-LI — Rumoured to be the strongest woman in the world, there is no denying that she is the quickest. A firm favourite among Street Fighter II players, this is one of the best characters to use.

RYU

RYU — The most basic of all the fighters, concentrated special moves give him a fierce reputation. Having been taught by the same instructor as Ken, grudge matches are a regular occurrence.

KEN

KEN — Similar in style to Ryu, the Dragon punch and Tornado kick make him a fierce opponent. Deadly combinations are his secret, together with quick thinking and movement.

GUILE

GUILE — A proud man, ex-Forces and a deadly enemy of M Bison, Guile uses his Sonic boom to keep the opposition at bay. A superb aerial ability makes this guy a threat to anyone.

BLANKA

BLANKA — Brought up in the wild jungles of Brazil, this beast has learned his fighting skills from the animals that roam them. An electric charge releases a shock to anyone within range.

DHALSIM

DHALSIM — The Yoga master may be slow to act, but he's incredibly tough to defeat. A curry fiend, his blow-torch breath will do more than you expect and set your hair on fire.

I WANT A SECOND OPINION

Well, it's finally arrived on the MD, and what an incredible beat-'em-up Street Fighter II SCE is. It has all the attributes of the SNES Hyper Fighting Edition with high-speed action and a real feeling of power and strength.

There is no doubt that this puts Mortal Kombat in the shade with the player having a choice over the duration and speed of each fight plus the option to play in an elimination and matchplay competition as well. All the moves are there with colour, sound and animation carried over from the arcade smash hit as a perfect conversion. Buy it!

MARK

- Ken and Guile battle it out between themselves over who is going to get the foxy chick, currently being kept safe by blonde in the background. The rest of the 'we're so cool' posse watch in amazement as Ken summons his magical powers.

- A handy little screen where you can toggle the special moves for each of the characters. Now the incredible M. Bison can be beaten by the fat Sumo or slap-stick Balrog with little effort. Now, that's what I call a cheat.

even better, but we can't have it all.

SFII: SCE is amazing in both speed and control. It's so fast and yet you always feel in control at even the most furious moments. The special moves are difficult to find, but personally I found it easier to play than the SNES version. An added attraction is that SFII: SCE is faster than the recently released SNES Hyper Fighting Edition.

Street Fighter II: Special Champion Edition offers everything you could ever want in a fighting game. It's extremely fast, immensely testing and undeniably the most addictive game released for a long time. You'll just keep on playing this one until your thumbs fall off!

The best fight ever! At long last we have a game that really makes the adrenaline rush and keeps you coming back for more time and time again.

A new addition, the latter is a fun two-player team mode offering the choice of Match Play or Elimination. In Match Play each player selects up to six fighters; the winner being the person with the most wins at the end of the fights. Elimination is again between a maximum of six fighters with a 'winner stays on' rule. Both of these are great fun, adding to the excitement when several people are playing.

If there is any single factor that has surprised me about this release it has to be the quality of the graphics. Compared to both the arcade and SNES version this is almost identical, if not superior. The detailing of the characters is perfect and they have a rougher, tougher look to them. All the special moves are perfectly implemented and there's even a trickle of blood here and there.

The backgrounds are virtually the same as the other versions, but one or two have been redrawn. There are clever animations for some of the background characters, while the scrolling is ultra smooth. The titles, intro sequences and character-select screens are superb. Fortunately, the gameplay is equally impressive, using either the standard three-button or new six-button joystick.

Accompanying the action to add an all-round atmosphere are the sound FX and background tunes. Each character's stage is further enhanced by its own piece of music to set the mood perfectly. As for the sound FX, they're as good as you could expect from the Mega Drive. Maybe a few speech samples would have made it Sonic must now travel to the little planet orbiting Mobius and prevent Robotnick from getting the time stones. An assortment of evil robots are out to get the super fast hedgehog including his new evil shadow, Metal Sonic, who has kidnapped Amy. Sonic's third rescue mission is a bizarre journey to the past and future in an attempt to work out how the time system works and how it can benefit him in his challenge.

The opening introduction features Sonic in a cartoon cinematic animation sequence which is as good as any cartoon you're likely to see on TV. The colours are perfect with Round 1 is titled 'Palmtree Panic' where Sonic is immediately thrown into a world of springs, tunnels and super-fast loops. It's all more of a confusion than a panic with continual action and incredible speed. You won't find any new icons to pick-up as all the original monitor-style bonuses are available just as before. For people who have just arrived from the moon the pick-up's can give Sonic either and extra life, a period of invincibility, a handful of rings, a ring protection suit or some super sneakers for even greater speeds.

The option to go into the future or back in the past is an original and very clever idea that's never been seen before in such a game. At first it's not very clear why Sonic needs to time travel as either good or bad – depending on how successful you've been. If you slip up in one time zone then any alterations could have a severe effect in the future. You'll only complete the game properly by travelling backwards and forwards in time and putting past events right.

Confused? Play it to believe it!

The time travel concept really brings out the challenge of Sonic CD as the player is able play the game in many different ways so each level can be played over and over again. In fact if we look at

SONIC CHAOS

ACROBATIC SONIC

One of Sonic's new animated moves can be used for clinging on to a wire stretching over a danger area.

METAL SONIC

He's new to the Sonic series and it's up to you to defeat him at the end of the Stardust Speedway round.

EXTRA LIFE

Ok, so we've seen this icon before. It is useful though and you should keep your eyes peeled for them as they are easily missed!

FUTURE POST

This is your gateway to time travel. Once Sonic has put this in a spin he only needs to reach a required speed to warp into the future (or past).

SONIC TIME WARP

When you see a trail of bright sparks coming from Sonic's rear then it means he is moving at the required speed to time warp.

UNREACHABLE RINGS

Rings or other such bonuses in the background can be reached in a different time zone.

SONIC SHRINK

At one point in the game Sonic walks through a source of power that makes him small.

WALL BASHING

We all know Sonic can spin through a wall. Just make sure you don't miss the hidden rooms and remember to use the Sonic spin.

SEESAW MADNESS

This is a form of transport Sonic must use to go upwards. He must keep jumping on the left and right sides to work the seesaw upwards.

SONIC SCOOTER

At one stage Sonic must use this form of machinery to speed into the heart of a chaotic zone full of mechanical mayhem!

PRO TIP

Don't forget you can use the Sonic Spin in two ways. Either hold the D-Pad up and push a button to build up speed standing up or hold the D-Pad down and spin in a ball if you prefer. The spin not only gets you up the steep slopes but also bashes down some of the walls to reveal hidden rooms.

the structural design very closely it becomes clear how the player has a choice of either bombing through all the levels as quickly as possible and declaring an unofficial victory or making use of all the time zones to finish the game properly and find new undiscovered features that grace a CD machine that's been crying out for imaginative and worthwhile software.

There is no doubt that the design of Sonic CD is superb with imaginative ideas and some completely flexible gameplay. There is never a straight forward route and it takes weeks to discover every element of this game.

Later levels are a joy to play with an array of new transporting components, large and impressive robots and mind-boggling background graphics. At one stage during the game Sonic shrinks when he interacts with a power source in the future. When Sonic is small, Sonic is cute and it's quite humorous seeing the small sprite out of proportion to the backgrounds!

The action is intense and half your time is spent being launched through the air by power components such as wheel launchers, rebounding lino, rotating ball claspers and speed belts. There are plenty of switches for activating moving backgrounds and the water is still there in places to keep you busy searching for air bubbles.

The bonus stages are accessed by collecting 50 rings and jumping through the large ring at the end of each zone as before. This section offers the player a 3-D scaling perspective of the action and your aim is to collect the time stones to help you in the quest to beat Robotnik.

The sprites throughout the game are detailed, smooth and very cleverly animated and there is so much variety in the background artwork. The typical Sonic scenario has been carried over to full effect with content being a lot bigger than ever before.

If you've got a Mega-CD then this is a must. The challenge is huge the gameplay is so fast and exciting. As before, the challenge is fairly easy if you play the game with an emphasis on progression, but the hidden features are never-ending and must be discovered! This is the best CD release yet and any fan of Sonic will want to get their hands on this immediately.

● Mark "Lost in time" Hill

PROTIP

Do not be tempted to race through each zone as quickly as possible because you are going to miss the whole point of the game. Use the time travel to full effect so future results become more interesting, thus enhancing the gameplay.

REVIEW

There is a fairy tale land far, far away called Agrabah. This land of wind and sand is split in two by the wealth of the Sultans and the poverty stricken parents who work their fingers to the bone, trying to feed hungry mouths. A rather sad setting, but a fairy tale nonetheless as out of these desperate streets shall arise a hero.

Aladdin is a common thief, or a street rat as children who live as he are known by the rich hierarchy. Jafar, the Sultan's personal advisor, is plotting to take over the kingdom, but he needs the power of the magic lamp, hidden within the Cave of Wonders. Aladdin has the power to go into the cave, so Jafar plans to entice the worthless street rat into his palace. And so, one dark night, the story begins...

Sega, Virgin Interactive Entertainment and Walt Disney Computer Software Inc, three of the world's finest entertainment companies, have united to combine their experience in developing the first video game to ever feature cartoon animation by the Disney team. With this, the talents of Cool Spot programmer David Perry and Sega's marketing skills, you have the recipe for something special.

The instantly recognisable Dave Perry style confirms the pre-conceptions of Disney's Aladdin. You literally sit back in disbelief as the opening level begins. The animation is so smooth that you are totally entranced into believing that this is a cartoon as Aladdin candidly leaps about the screen.

As you progress through the levels, continually amazed by the graphics, you have to admire the amount of fine detail, animation and colouring that has gone into the release. All the sprites move in a natural manner and everything is tinged with a sense of humour. Spitting that egg you on to attack them and a magic carpet ride that sends poor Aladdin into a high-speed death run.

As with so many platform adventures, there are items, power-ups and bonuses to be found. You must collect apples which can be used as an effective weapon against the sword-wielding guards. To help, hearts that restore your energy, stage restarts and valuable gems, that can be traded at market stalls, are randomly scattered throughout the levels.

With so many items to collect and bonuses to find, you are constantly kept on the edge of your seat. Guards patrol every corner of the screen and although easy to kill they often catch you out. Exploding skeletons, deadly lava pits and darn annoying bats take the occasional monotony out of the gameplay and you are confronted with a reasonably difficult platform adventure of the highest quality.

It would be fair to say that with the combination of superb graphics, atmospheric music and challenging gameplay, that this is one of the best platform games ever. It's a vast improvement on Cool Spot, and with its family appeal only Sonic the Hedgehog and World of Illusion come close!

The magical atmosphere is further enhanced by the background music. You often feel entranced as Aladdin proceeds, wiping out guards, as the Eastern sounds flow through the air.

Ten levels, each giving you a standard side-

Hopping and jumping about is a full-time occupation for Aladdin as the dungeon poses more than its fair share of problems. The blocks move out of the wall and you can step up them as and when they appear, but be quick.

HEY MICKEY!

To understand just how the graphics were designed, Debbie Brajevich of Virgin Games, Inc. explained the processes used.

A team of Disney animators drew between 1200 and 1600 new cells under the direction of the Virgin animation team. Mike Dietz of Virgin flew to Florida to assist the Disney team as the cells were hand drawn. Aladdin's character was re-drawn in an attempt to make him more suitable for the video game, even the smallest details like his feet and belt were changed to give him a more authentic look.

The general design was taken from the original movie, not only did this include the graphics, but the humour and storyline too. Jeffrey Katzenberg of Disney oversaw the work produced. This in itself made video game history and Virgin was very pleased to have such a prominent person from Disney working with them. The storyline for each level and the quality of the animation, etc all had to be given the okay from this infamous Disney animator.

Once the cells had been drawn, they were fed into a computer and put through a computerised Cell Animation Process. Three months passed and finally everything was ready to piece together. Debbie says, "I think you'll agree that the product is simply brilliant."

on view, vary both in difficulty and style of gameplay. The first three, Agrabah Market, The Desert, and Agrabah Rooftops are relatively straight forward and ease you into the game with an ideal learning curve. Then the dangerous Sultan's Dungeon tests your agility as quick thinking and careful jumping must be used.

The Cave of Wonders and The Escape try your skills even further with daring leaps and careful observations a must. Then

The genie's hands appear to offer our hero directions, but, this time, Aladdin has cooked his goose! Unless he can manoeuvre the magic carpet up or down very quickly, he will hit the rock.

the game changes from a platform adventure style to a simple test of your reactions, similar to the high-speed section of Battle Toads. This is a somewhat disappointing part to the game and more could have been made of it. Using a technique, similar to that of the arcade game Rail Chase, may have proved more spectacular.

If you want to see what your Mega Drive is really capable of and if you particularly enjoy platform adventures, this shouldn't be missed. The presentation is absolutely superb and it goes to show what rubbish it is when people say the SNES is capable of superior graphics.

The most impressive platform adventure ever to appear on any games system. It's attention to detail and atmospheric qualities are mind-blowing.

I WANT A SECOND OPINION

Wow! Disney's Aladdin deserves to be the biggest game of the year. Simply because it's not a game, it's an interactive cartoon. Real cartoon-quality graphics have been promised for so long, but, now, they're actually here.

It's the perfect licence as it is a brilliant game in its own right and doesn't rely on its big name to sell. The sheer quality of animation and program design is good enough.

The gameplay isn't that different to many platform games, but it's the Disney magic, which has captivated cinema goers over the years, that's going to hook many Sega gamers.

PAT

How fast time goes by, on the 23rd of September I reached my 300th year.

And again I am living in a time of great wonders. Turning lead to gold is no longer the aim of this alchemist. I have given the benefit of my knowledge to those who would journey into the realms of fantasy using their many skills to outwit and defeat the images created by the children of my creation AURORA.

I mean the video game with all its twists, turns and endless variations which takes all of my attention. I work till the bones in my body ache and my eyes crave the luxury of rest in order to bring to you video play magic. Have you the brains, the skill and the steady hand needed to join me in my world? You must be a special human in order to join me and you too can be immortal as I am, on the tables of high scores.

This lunar turn I bring you even more great offers to take you further along the path you have chosen. First, a short tale. Marok decided to defeat Chun-Li, a dear friend of mine in Street Fighter. I have not seen anyone work with such dexterity in over two hundred and fifty years and while I reminisced about my sword masters lessons, the savagery of Marok's play left me dizzy as sweat rolled from his brow, but defeat was inevitable when he got his finger caught in the joypad and despite my greatest effort I could not dislodge it. I offered to turn it to clay with a secret acid and then take it off but he will not let me yet. So he must now work on your orders stuck on autofire. Think of this as you await the speedy return of your games.

PGA Tour Golf is a tidy and very playable simulation that allows four players to compete against each other and all the top golfing professionals. If you enjoy a round with the lads, then try this as it's the best golf game to appear yet on the MS.

Ahh, relaxation at its highest! There's nothing to beat a good round of golf and even if you're not a Plus Four fogey, there is still something to be enjoyed from hearing the swish of a club and the gentle patter of the ball hitting the green. Unfortunately, these sounds are missing, letting down what is otherwise a very well presented and playable game. All the features you would expect are here including a very handy game save option. Clear, informed graphics complement the relatively fast gameplay and it's the only purchase you'll need to make if you love your golf!

REVIEW

Cosmic Spacehead is the galaxy's most seasoned traveller. After discovering the existence of Earth, he zipped back to his native planet, Linoleum, to break the news. Unfortunately, he forgot to take any proof with him that the Earth exists, so no one believes him. Travellers like Cosmic rely on discovering new planets to earn money, so this leaves our Linoman a bit strapped for cash. His only option is to return to Earth and photograph the planet.

Now, this wouldn't be a problem if Cosmic wasn't so, er, skint. All he has to his name is one Linodollar, which, let's face it, isn't going to go very far in this day and age. So, how is he going to turn himself from a penniless traveller into a renowned hero? Join his adventure to find out!

To ignite the missile, you'll have to collect a fuse wire, a match, some gunpowder and a missile targeting device.

odemasters are well known for producing non-violent games and Cosmic Spacehead sums up perfectly what the company is all about. The adventure claims to be totally interactive with much of the emphasis placed on problem solving. RPGs such as Shining Force and Warriors of the Eternal Sun may allow you to interact with certain characters, but there's certainly never been a completely interactive adventure on the Mega Drive before.

Cosmic's quest begins in Old Lino Town. He must prove that Earth exists, but with no money or souvenirs, this is proving very difficult. It's here that your first taste of interaction comes. By moving the cursor around the screen, you can make Cosmic walk to different areas of the town. If you want to look at an object, you merely place the cursor over it and select LOOK from the menu. Manipulating objects is generally very simple as the programmers have chosen to use a standard point-and-click interface.

The adventure has many sub-goals, but your ultimate aim is to return to the planet Earth. You will give you the item you were looking for.

If you get stuck, try moving about in the teleporters. When you exit some of them, they must take pictures of Earth to prove to your employers that you visited the planet. A short term goal is to gather the necessary documents to leave the planet Linoleum. By accessing a map, you'll see that the planet is fairly large, although getting to some areas will take copious amounts of brain strain!

Although this is an adventure, a large amount of inter-stage action revolves around platform games. These give the player a well-deserved break from solving puzzles, but they offer little in the way of challenge. However, the aim of the level is to collect as many Cosmic sweets as possible without getting hit by enemies. If ten sweets are collected, Cosmic gets an extra life! Arcade sections usually appear before you're either about to discover something vital to your progress or a password. This is

COSMIC SPACEHEAD

I WANT A SECOND OPINION

Puzzle adventures often tend to drag on with little variety and too much emphasis on routes and text. Cosmic Spacehead is a welcome change with a variety of gameplay modes and a simple, easy-to-use command menu.

The cartoon backgrounds and space-aged characters mix so well together with a high level of detail used to create each of the interactive objects. The structure of the game has been so well thought out with a solid storyline and a host of space-aged objects that anyone can relate to. The only fault I can pick out is the slow change between screens.

MARK

where the Codies last release, Fantastic Dizzy was lacking.

In addition to Cosmic's adventure, you can also play a game called Pie Splat. This is a two-player game, where the idea is to throw as much cream pie at your opponent as possible. While it sounds fun, the game is totally pointless. It's boring, the graphics are a bit naff and it seems to be suited more to a sub-game rather than an alternative playing mode.

Graphically, this is by no means revolutionary. The graphics are kept very simple throughout most of the adventure, although there are some wonderfully bizarre backgrounds to stumble across! The release has a Fifties feel and Codemasters maintain that they wanted the game to appear very kitsch. They've certainly achieved that, but I can't help thinking it's a bit of an excuse for simple graphics.

Cosmic Spacehead really is a breath of fresh air. Codemasters have managed to corner a piece of the market that few people have dared to enter. Action fans will probably find little of interest here, but this is a game that relies on content rather than plush graphics. A brilliant, kooky adventure that's just begging to be made into a series of games. Please?

● Sam "Far out" Hickman

I think that this is supposed to be a kind of miniature version of Micro Machines. It's good fun, but the controls are quite fiddly at first. Pie Splat, the sub game, is also very similar to this, only it's not as much fun.

After you've managed to get a bus ticket out of Planet Linoleum, this is where you'll wind up. The planet is inhabited by out of control robots and they don't take too kindly to alien tourists. Watch out!

I'm raving, I'm raving! Cosmic discovers many strange sights on his travels, including a twenty foot raving robot. There's one problem though - how is Cosmic going to get past him?

It takes eight from Pluto seven hours to reach Earth.

GA Tour Golf on the GG initially looks great as the opening screens emphasise the PGA challenge very well with statistics on the progress of the world's top golfers and a few pre-tournament options that take you to the driving range and practice greens.

After deciding to enter the tournament solo or with up to three other mates, you can begin your challenge as an amateur or professional. Each hole has a neat overhead illustration of each fairway and it's from here that the tactical game begins. Making a good stroke requires careful judgement on the power and snap indicators with the wind strength putting your success in the balance. There is a distance guide between you and the hole and the range of each club is shown when selected. This gives you a better-than-average chance of hitting the right distance.

The graphics are very clear on the small screen with accurate perspectives of lakes, bunkers, trees and grass densities. Sound effects are very basic with the main tune being typically jolly, but nothing special.

Making each stroke requires concentration and you'll need lots of it if you wish to stay on the tournament leader board. There is a regular statistical update on each player's progress. When you start to appear on the update screens, your achievements are acknowledged and satisfaction is increased. PGA Tour Golf is a worthwhile portable golf game that should provide hours of challenge and enjoyment as there is such a great incentive to learn the strokes and become an expert of consistency.

PRO TIP It's often very difficult directing a shot when you can't see the pin, so use the illustrated overhead fairway diagrams to suss out the safest routes.

● Mark "Caddie" Hill

● The snap indicator, if used correctly, will prevent the wind blowing your ball to the left or right.

● Off the green you have a full choice of clubs to use including a putter. Here a nine iron to the green should be enough set up the next stroke for a birdie with only the wind strength now determining the ball direction.

REVIEW

The PGA Tour is one of golf's major events and every competition draws in the world's top golfers. Now you can make the fairway's your own with the odd eagle, a modest set of birdies and some memorable recovery pars that will lift the crowd and take you that little bit closer to the number one spot.

Only excellence can take you to the top of the leader board in golf. With up to $2,000,000 at stake in most tournaments, the world's top players are out and the key to success is often consistency. Can you handle the pressure of a win-it-all putt from the fringe of the green? Have you got the will power to drive a 300+ yard shot over a stretch of water that most golfers can only make in two?

REVIEW

Being the co-driver of a rally car can be a heart-stopping experience of lethal cornering and over-the-limit speeds – particularly as the circuits are mostly made up of country farm tracks. Imagine a circuit that has the odd loop-the-loop, an Alton Towers style corkscrew stunt, deathly Indy racing-style banked curves and deadly ramp jumps!

It would be one hell of a race. So, why not take up the challenge in a polygon fantasy ride where the racers turn a theme park into a grand prix and truckers join the death rides just to liven up the party. It's a race of skill and nerve that can't be dismissed as a simple bomb along the highway because the Phantom racer is out to beat you!

PRO TIP On the Super Stunt circuit, approach the spiral loop in the middle of the road, then hold the accelerator down and don't touch the steering to sail through the spiral with ease.

When Hard Drivin' was released on the Mega Drive it was praised for its success in creating the same speeds and polygon graphics the arcade version boasted. Indeed, it was a worthy driving simulator that required careful steering and some close attention on cornering and braking.

The rather weak sequel title of Race Drivin' should not be underestimated as the challenges are just as hard and you must still aim to qualify in practise before going head-to-head in a race with the Phantom racer. The differences come in the game content. There are now three additional tracks in which to race – including a custom circuit where you can design your own circuit of death! To add to this, you have a choice of three cars for racing and performing new and exciting stunts.

Race Drivin' uses the same gameplay features as its original. The polygon graphics and realistic car control methods are used to create a racing scenario comprising ramps, banked curves, loops and spirals. The external track features are typically American with yellow road signs, ranch type buildings and gas stations.

Your objective from the start post of each track is to clock up a time that's good enough to enable you to challenge the Phantom racer. Controlling the car takes time to get to grips with at first as the steering works similar to that of real driving and not of most console racers. Careful brake control is vital for the hair-pin bends and you'll need to approach most obstacles at high speed! The key is patience: trial and error will be a high contributor to your overall success.

The perspective is accurate in respect of speed and sense of depth, but when you step on the gas, the graphics tend to flicker, resulting in jerky action. This isn't a major flaw, but it can cause a few problems when you're desperately following the circuit over blind ridges and along an aftermath of twists and turns. Nevertheless, the chaotic action should sharpen your reactions. The various soundtracks are fairly dry and old, but the sound effects

The presentation of Race Drivin' is very similar to the original, so it has pretty strange controls and simple graphics. The control method is often dismissed as inadequate, but it is very realistic and after a few burns around the original track you should be able to keep away from the off road barriers.

With the added custom track builder and two additional courses, the only aspect that is lacking is the omission of a two-player mode. Still, this is a classic arcade game which looks as though it's going to find its way into many games players' collections.

JASON

enhance the feeling of speed and crash sequences.

The content has been expanded upon, although the new features fail to reveal any improvement in the circuit design and obstacles. Okay, you have three different cars available to suit the different tracks, but it's a shame there are not many different types of obstacles. When you race the Phantom, it is disappointing as it's just a race between the two of you with no other competitors.

The overhead instant replays of crashes can be fun to watch and the circuit design can provide you with more hours of fun. After a while, though, the racing becomes too repetitive with the same Phantom becoming a tiresome challenger. If you enjoyed the original, this is certainly worth a look, but if you're more a fan of the standard flat racing grand prix sims then this may prove a little frustrating as the gameplay is focused on speed and glamour rather than a wheel-to-wheel race against lots of other cars.

● Mark "roadie" Hill

● The instant replay will give you an accurate overhead action sequence of your accident and here you can see for yourself how timing and approach speeds must be precise to make a jump such as this.

● Now what on earth is a ten tonne lorry doing on a track designed for sports cars? And secondly, why is it travelling in the opposite direction? I guess that's the beauty of racing on dusty American roads. Mind you, how this guy can jump that bridge in the distance is beyond me!

SOUND 79%

▲ The high speeds and realism are captured by very realistic engine sounds.
▼ The different tunes offer nothing special and are unsuited to racing of this calibre.

GAMEPLAY 82%

▼ There is nothing new about the concept of this racer to the original Hard Drivin'

CHALLENGE 72%

▲ Completing each circuit without crashing in an unbeatable time is a huge challenge!

COSMIC SPACEHEAD

Cosmic Spacehead's job is to travel the galaxy, discovering new planets and collecting tourist souvenirs. He's just returned from his most successful mission ever, but he's unfortunately forgotten to bring evidence of life back to his home planet, Linoleum. This means that his fellow countrymen don't believe that the new planet, Earth, exists. However much Cosmic pleads with his colleagues, there's no way that they're going to believe his story. What they want to see is some hard evidence.

Cosmic has to return to Earth to take pictures and collect trinkets. However, there is one slight problem. He only gets paid if he discovers a new planet. So, with no money and zilch street cred, how is he going to make the most important discovery of the century?

If you ever speak to a Game Gear owner they'll probably tell you that what the console lacks is a decent strategy. Shining Force is on the way, other developers promise great things for the Game Gear, but nothing has surfaced so far. Cosmic Spacehead isn't an RPG, but it does offer the Game Gear owner something very different. Cosmic's world aims to be completely interactive and the adventure is based around a set of intriguing puzzles.

He begins his quest with not a bean to his name. Before he can leave the planet Linoleum and make his way to Earth, he has to collect money, a driving licence and a bus ticket. These can all be found in various parts of the planet, although getting to these locations is often a struggle in itself. Cosmic can pick up items which can be used to tackle various obstacles, including getting to seemingly unreachable destinations. Just to make things slightly more difficult, arcade sub-levels are included, although these are relatively simple to complete.

Cosmic Spacehead doesn't offer any spectacular visuals – the graphics aren't even as polished as Codemasters' previous release, Fantastic Dizzy. However, they're well above average and suit the game perfectly. Again, the sound could have been improved, but when did sound ever make a hand held title great? Anyway, the gameplay is so addictive and involving that any rough graphics pass by almost unnoticed.

This is an inter-level stage where Cosmic must collect sweets. If he collects ten, he'll get an extra life!

Cosmic Spacehead aims to give Game Gear owners, tired of the same old platformers, something different. It certainly is different, but it's also a whole lot more. It's one of the most original games to appear and has dished up one of the best adventures of the year.

● Sam "Rainbow" Hickman

Cosmic can't actually kill anything in these levels. To get to the end, he just has to avoid all enemies.

The dream of all Fremen, the tribal inhabitants of Dune, is to give their planet the slightest chance of having an ecological life. They sense that Paul Atreides could be the one to lead them into a prosperous future, but a powerful army and equally strong leader will be needed to take control of the planet. Our story begins in a palace south of the Harkonnen settlements...

Emperor

- This is one of the many Fremen population just waiting to be put to work, mining the Spice Melange or building an army. You can talk to him and find out information about what's happening in their Seitch and how well motivated everyone is.

- Your mother, Jessica, is not a lot of use to you in the early stages, but she may reveal one or two secrets later on. However, she does look after you and would probably change your socks if you asked her nicely.

Shaddam IV, who sent you and your family to Dune, must be kept happy. He demands increasing volumes of spice and must be constantly monitored. An advisor in the palace should make you aware of any problems; it's all about keeping in contact with the right people and thinking about how to increase your popularity within the Fremen population.

As with the computer formats, you use the cursor to execute commands. To progress through the game you must talk to people, fly from settlement to settlement in your Ornithopter and use careful judgement when talking to Fremen leaders. You're able to carry up to two passengers in the Ornithopter – some more helpful than others.

An endless list of options, maps and charts has been included. The most useful of these is a RAM save which allows you to return to a previous position on the game. There is also a storybook that tells you everything you need to know about the planet, which is helpfully mapped to the finest detail, and its

After giving Sonic CD 90% I felt it was the best CD game to date. After playing Dune CD I still stick to my comment although Dune is certainly another step in the right direction as far as the Mega-CD goes.

I don't agree that this adventure rates in the 90s because I feel there could have been more animation sequences and a greater choice of commands on each screen. I personally found it a little boring to start with and though later stages offer more variety, I found little incentive to progress. However, if you like long strategic adventures then this is certainly worth a look.

MARK

Should you be feeling a little confused about how to go about conquering Dune, why not fly around the desert planet for a while. Other than being pretty to look at this sequence has very little use until your Fremen workforce is at its strongest.

The blue map in the top-right corner is a plan of the palace. When you first begin your mission you won't be able to enter each of the rooms. The further you play into the game, the bigger the playing area becomes as the plot thickens with even more taxing puzzles.

inhabitants.

The flight sequence between each settlement demonstrates the Mega-CD's powerful rendering capabilities. As you're flying across endless sand dunes the horizon, smoothly transforming, sweeps towards you using exceptional shading and colouring techniques. When the entrance to a settlement comes into view you are taken in for a smooth landing. You can even control the craft in three directions and fly across Dune to study the settlements.

Several original sound tracks from the movie have been included. They are constantly playing in the background and the volume of both the music and speech can be altered. When you click on a character's icon

Use the mixer panel to change the volumes of the voices and the language the characters speak.

PROTIP

Talking to everyone is the best way of finding out what you must do and how to go about doing it. Take Gurny Halleck along with you, he's a wise old man who will give you all the help you'll need.

or ask a question, they reply with synchronised speech. Everything that is said appears in sub-titles along with the actor's voices. They are clear and easy to listen to, but the occasional lack of emotion seems unnatural.

Dune is the first strategic Mega-CD game that really is worth buying. It's obvious that a huge amount of work has gone into its production and it uses the hardware to its limits. I can recommend Dune to anyone with a Mega-CD, but if you're in two minds about buying the expensive hardware, this is the game that could swing you into parting with your cash.

Not the best footy game available, but it's a worthy contender for the most options ever! Fast, furious and well worth a look if you enjoy football sims.

Following-up with a Game Gear version of the disappointing Mega Drive game, Ultimate Soccer has certainly done the rounds. The recently reviewed Tengen World Cup Soccer failed to match up to Super Kick-Off, despite being one of the most playable footy games. So, let's see if this is, excuse the pun, the 'ultimate' GG footy sim to date.

Well, for starters, it has been concisely put together to offer the most substantial selection of options and teams ever seen. You are given the choice of playing a friendly against the CPU or human opponent (via the GG Link), the Ultimate Cup, League or practise a Penalty shootout. Options include the standard weather and formation selects, but you can be particularly vindictive and toggle the professional foul as a red card offence.

A substantial listing of International teams allows you to pick and choose how good the opposition will play. This is ideal when you first start to play. Despite the numerous options and team tactics, it's far from the most playable football game. The playability improves as the control method becomes easier, but there is too much in the way of luck involved and there's never an authentic feel.

The intro screens and general presentation are very impressive. The pitch view and scrolling should have been altered as it's not particularly impressive. Sometimes, you'll find yourself running towards the goal faster than the pitch is scrolling which is a poor, undetected bug and, sadly, the sprites are eye-strainingly small.

If you are a football fan and have had enough of Kick-Off, this is currently the next best thing on the market. Future releases (including GG J League ProStriker) are building up steam and it's worth waiting with Christmas just around the corner.

● Jason "Rage on" Johnson

The roar of the crowd fills a multi-coloured stadium as the teams walk onto the pitch. This is the final round of the Ultimate Cup and after a long and difficult struggle through the early rounds, England has made it. Of course, this is pure fiction as we all know England couldn't even reach the cup finals in a month of Sundays, could we Graham!

The referee blows his whistle and kick-off. The action is non-stop as one minute the reds are on the attack, and then the blues are causing havoc in the opposition's penalty area. Professional fouls, team tactics and a havoc-causing crowd make football the great game that it is and you know you'll never walk alone. Ere we go, ere we go...

Look carefully and you should just be able to pick out the players in the goal mouth. In the middle, there is a scramble and the goalie is trying his darn hardest to prevent his team from conceding more goals.

taking up the role of a classical hero, your objective is to become a god by battling your way through four huge levels that make up the evil city. You'll need explore, fight and experiment with levers and switches to gain access to new areas and to help you through the adventure, there are loads of pick-ups to collect.

The adventure starts in the city and continues through a temple, a labyrinth and, finally, the underworld. To aid your quest you are originally granted three lives, a huge choice of weaponry and a selection of potions and keys. As well as defeating the chaotic hordes of monsters that you'll encounter, you'll need to find various keys to open doors and treasure chests. There are many switches dotted around the levels that need to be flicked in certain combinations so a trap door or platform will appear at some other reachable location on the level. This is very irritating and trial and error plays a big part in sorting these out.

On the final level you have come across a room revealing loads of hidden bonuses. The potions and weapons, seen above, should be used for particular situations, so not only must you use preserve them for later parts of the game, but also learn what they do.

The inventory panel allows you to carry three objects at one time and the message scroll is there to give you vital hints and clues. It often reads something like, 'To open this door, you'll need to collect the gold key'. The advice is useful, but you'll still be confused until a switch combination is worked out through trial and error. Any problems you have can be minimised by looking at the bank account status. If you have loads of money, you can buy tasty weapons and potions that'll see off the plain monsters and make the guardian battles easier.

The main character can be awkward to control; when you want to Anyone who expects a challenge from the gods must be daring and brave. You have chosen to come forward and test your skill and strength in a city so legendary its name alone strikes fear into anyone who hears of it. Built by the gods, this city comprises great temples, hidden underworlds, fiendish labyrinths and soaring towers.

You face the challenge of conquering a city stolen from the gods by the dark forces. You will fight against the adobe of nightmare hosts, the dwelling of fearsome killers and the dominion of four great guardians. You must hope you know how best to use the weapons that are to be found. Your overall objective is simple, you wish to become one of the fickle masters of the human race. You wish to become one of the gods.

On the first level your main aim is to flick the switches to open the doors. As you can see, there are a fair few enemies you'll encounter so it's certain you'll need to find the bonuses to stand a chance of surviving. Enemies have their own behaviour patterns; some will help you whilst others are more devious and attack at will. You'll need to use luck, skill and strategy to progress.

jump onto ladders and shoot the enemies quickly the joypad responses seem to be a touch too slow for comfort. His body frame is drawn to good effect as the detail brings out an alien shaped head with an out-of-proportion body which looks really smart! He moves with an old-age style stutter which emphasises the warrior image well.

The enemy sprites come in all kinds of strange shapes and forms, but there is little variety in their movement patterns. The 'Thief' will attempt to steal objects from you whilst the 'Fliers' will prove to be elusive creatures who attempt to avoid all your shots.

Graphics are very impressive to view with a typically medieval style of background brickwork throughout the adventure. The icons are clearly illustrated and the guardians are graced with fine detail. Sound works well with a suitably soft tune and nice touches in its sound effects, such as the creaking doors and the flick of the switches.

Gods can be fun to play if you are patient and enjoy a good puzzler. There is nothing too original, although it is satisfying working out all the clues. When we reviewed Gods on import, last year, it received a ProYo!, but since then better games have been released.

● Mark "key master" Hill

I WANT A SECOND OPINION

When Gods came out on import, nearly a year ago, it received rave reviews from just about everyone. Unfortunately, Sega refused to release the game officially and caused a storm in the process. However, one year later, the game looks very dated. The animation is poor, the gameplay is monotonous and the graphics are very unimaginative. The puzzle elements offer some challenge, but it's not exactly innovative. Honestly, you would think that programmers would have learned their lesson by now. With games like Flashback and Another World on the market, this will certainly have difficulty in grabbing games players' attention.

SAM

Most of quest requires learning the routes and working out which switches trigger which doors. However, the many networks of ladders can also prove to be frustrating as it's very easy to miss the rungs and fall to the ground, thus losing energy.

Often the enemies will keep appearing in numbers until you've defeated a whole army!

At the end of each level, you can use some credits to purchase the best weapons in the shop.

You must take on the responsibility of finding Earth and making sure you take enough snaps to prove you've found the new planet. The journey ahead takes you through three planet worlds, where the key to success is in the interactive backgrounds and characters you'll meet. Are you ready to become the next space-aged Columbus?

Before I played this game, I must admit I was slightly sceptical of its theme. A space traveller who must visit Earth to take a few photos? Doesn't sound too interesting, I thought. However, when I began to play the game I was immediately proved wrong. This is jam-packed with many different kinds of action and the puzzles are instantly addictive – it's the sort of game you don't stop playing until you've reached the end. The graphics aren't exactly amazing, but with such great gameplay this should please just about everyone.

PRO TIP

To launch the missile on the first planet, you'll need to make sure you've collected the match, the fuse wire, the gunpowder and the targeting device.

Throughout the adventure, you'll come across many bizarre locations. You'll start in Linoleum, travel to Detroitica – a vehicle factory, and end up at a space station. Each destination is divided into smaller play areas where Cosmic can manipulate and use objects to aid his quest.

During the interactive screens, you must guide Cosmic by using an arrow. As you move the arrow around the objects you'll see them highlighted in the panel and from here you can command Cosmic to pick up, use, give, look or talk.

Codemasters have, unsurprisingly, come up trumps in creating a well-constructed arcade puzzler that contains clever and addictive gameplay. Putting the command screens aside, there are 32 arcade oriented sub-games. Most of these are structured in a platform-style where you guide Cosmic through Cosmic can only travel over this stretch of water by using the surf board. This arcade screen requires a lot of jumping and dodging, and once you have reached the other side there is the important fusewire you'll need to collect.

emies by jumping from platform to platform. If 10 credits are collected on these stages, you are rewarded with an extra life. Some sub-games are more important, such as the astro-car race in which you must power to victory to get that all-important bus ticket to the next planet.

Not only have Codemasters demanded that skill is required to progress, but luck also plays a factor, with items such as the fruit machine where Cosmic's initial Linodollar can be gambled against a jackpot of 50 Linodollars!

The graphics for the MS are perfect in every way. Sprites move smoothly and there are many that you'll encounter. The large monster blocking your path to

COSMIC SPACEHEAD

Dodgey city, for instance, can only be removed by use of a helium balloon. If Cosmic gives him this, he'll float over the space world and you'll see him as a speck with a red balloon on the satellite map – still floating in the atmosphere!

Cosmic is blessed with cool detail and when he yawns, you almost feel sorry that you're wasting his time by pausing!

There is a password option for saving your position and an additional two-player pie-throwing challenge has been included in the game just to make the point that Codemasters know how to keep the action a never-ending barrel of fun.

I can't recommend this to everyone as some may find the style too slow, but most will find themselves hooked from the beginning. There are many puzzles to solve and the sub-games enhance the already challenging and addictive gameplay.

● Mark "stary" Hill

In the factory Cosmic finds himself getting caught up with the machinery as a bolt of electricity shoots down just in front of him. This is the second planet of the adventure with Cosmic just getting used to the new environment.

Here you can clearly see why Cosmic must launch the missile because behind the exploding wall is the bus stop where he can catch the bus to the next planet. The missile requires four components to be found before it can be launched.

REVIEW

The threat of evil mutants on planet Earth has lead to the creation of a group of super heroes known as The X-Men. Their very presence keeps many super villains away, but there is always someone, or something, that believes they can out think them. One such character is Arcade. Described as a warped-out genius, he uses his vivid imagination to create such abnormalities as freaked out fun-houses and deadly drowning pools to catch his prey. An unforeseen incident has lead to the X-Men going missing. Life-long friend Spider-Man, who knows the way the super villains think, realises that Gambit is behind the mysterious goings on. And so, without thinking about personal safety, Spider-Man sets out on the back of a truck to tackle what will could be to be his deadliest mission ever.

"Ok guys, who can jump the highest?" Cyclops is the clear winner at this little game.

SPIDER-MAN AND THE X-MEN

It's nearly two years since the original Spider-Man was released, and it was a huge success, rated 85% in SEGA PRO. Nowadays, it is a budget title, so there's a space for another Marvel adventure. The X-Men recently starred in their own console game, but a few minor flaws meant that it wasn't up to the same standard. Now, the two have teamed up to give us a double dose of super hero entertainment.

The opening level is a simple hide and seek affair with various icons to be found using your Spider-Sense. This accustoms you to the controls as it leads into the main game. Then, you are given the option of choosing which characters' levels you want to attempt first.

Five characters in all makes for a huge amount of exploration, and with various styles of gameplay to each level, it's great fun. Fans of the Marvel Comics characters won't believe their eyes!

Control of the super heroes varies considerably as they each possess personally tailored magic powers. Storm, for instance, uses Lightning Bolts while Cyclops punches and kicks his opponents into submission. Having so many different characters and varied moves makes for challenging, addictive gameplay.

Unlike the original Spider-Man game, sprite collision detection is excellent and overall presentation of the graphics, though not as impressive as most platform adventures, is above average. Parallax scrolling throughout each level and detailed, well-animated sprites make for a 'fun to be had by all' adventure.

"Backs against the wall lads, this Spider-Man character is a bit of a strange one if you ask me!"

A special mention must be given for the quality of the music. Its upbeat tempos and variation add life to the game, causing one or two heads to turn in the office. Fans of Spider-Man, dare I say, will love it. There is a dated concept to the game, but newcomers may find more than enough amusement to keep them addicted.

REVIEW

Life isn't always easy when you're a member of the Nth dimension. When you're not worrying about intergalactic space travel, there's the forces of non-imaginations to contend with. The non-imaginations will go to any length to destroy the Nth dimension and anyone associated with it. This tends to be a bit of a problem when you're the sole defender of the galaxy. At least Zool has a few tricks up his sleeve. He's an expert ninja and a mean navigator too.

Unfortunately, when flying through the depths of the galaxy, Zool's spaceship hurtles out of control. He is forced to crash land on a strange planet and after some investigation, he finds that the non-imaginations are in the vicinity. They have turned the planet's creatures into vicious killers and they'll do the same to Zool if he's caught! There's only one thing for a ninja from the Nth dimension to do in times like this. Adopt battle mode!

Does anyone ever remember a film called The Swarm? Well, the bees in that were even bigger than the bees in Zool. However, the bees in the film didn't turn into a pile of sweets when they were destroyed.

In less than one year, Zool, the alien from the Nth dimension, has made quite a name for himself. In the week he was released, he outsold all other Amiga games by four to one. He dominated the game charts and, for a while, he could do no wrong. Programmers are already working on the follow up and one year on, the original version is about to appear on the Mega Drive.

A short intro scene shows Zool's spaceship spinning out of control, then you're crash landed straight into the game. Your mission is to free all the planet's creatures from the forces of non-imagination. While they are still under the spell they will go to any lengths to destroy the Nth dimension. For those of you wondering exactly what the Nth dimensions is, it's the force of justice and imagination. It exists everywhere and without it, we would all be subject to the forces of evil. To free the creatures from a fate worse than death, Zool must shoot them and defeat one of Krool's (the head crony of the non-imaginations) warriors. He must also collect bonuses throughout each level. This may sound like your usual platform adventure and in some ways it is.

PRO TIP Don't jump into the bag of popcorn. Although it may look like a bonus, it spits popcorn and will kill you.

However, it manages to take a novel slant on the traditional platformer, in that it offers totally freaked out graphics!

To completely defeat Krool and Mental Block, Krool's evil sidekick, Zool will

NINJA OF THE "Nth" DIMENSION

JUST AN ILLUSION

Krool has the ability to turn himself and other objects into anything he likes. Check out this lot and remember – they may look friendly enough, but they're not. Touch any of these and you'll lose a lot of energy.

I WANT A SECOND OPINION

The first thing that caught my eye about Zool was the bright colours and detailed objects with each level offering new surprises and added bonuses. Zool can move at quite a speed and it's great fun bombing along the levels not knowing where you'll end up next.

In many ways the game plays like Sonic and Bubsy with Zool having a profile very similar to these other console stars. The Zool-spin can hardly be deemed an original aspect and Zool is just like any other large platformer, but if you like Sonic, you'll certainly enjoy this fun-packed adventure.

ally quite tricky. Each level is instantly playable, but with four stages to every world, the action can become frustratingly fiddly. Although experienced players will find this easy, the later levels tend to give the adventure some lastability.

Zool has a number of weapons to aid his struggle against Krool. Probably the most useful is his female friend Zooz. Whenever she appears on the screen, she will copy Zool's actions, killing anything in sight. In addition to Zool's girlfriend, there are a multitude of bonuses. There's for extra time, extra jumping power and even bombs to pick up. These will paralyse all enemies, leaving them powerless and, thus, can't touch or even harm Zool.

If I had a hammer...these hammers are less than friendly to anything from the Nth dimension. They're quite difficult to avoid, but unless you want to be flattened, you'd better stay out of their way.

Hey! Some friendly faces at last! These fish bowls give you a huge bonus!

The Sweet world is one of the most bizarre levels in the whole game. Everything in the level is made of sweets and there's even some subliminal advertising thrown in for good measure. Chupa Chups will also appear on the box cover.

REVIEW

NINJA OF THE "NTH" DIMENSION

- These flowers are pretty dangerous, but if Zool picks up the bomb by them, it will blow them off the screen. Bombs can be picked up in any level and are probably the most useful item in the whole game.

If you manage to defeat the level guardians, you'll have the chance to compete in a bonus level. Here, you temporarily regain control of your ship and you can fly around the galaxy, collecting extra lives and power-ups. It's not all fun and games! Krool has forces in outer space and as soon as your ship appears, they'll attack.

Graphically, this is a completely weird and wonderful expedition! Every level is full of psychedelic surprises and each world carries its own individual theme. The graphics are totally different for each stage and everything, from the enemies to the bonuses, carries the theme. While other software houses are concentrating on bringing us ever more sophisticated graphics, Gremlin bring you the most garnished visuals this side of the cosmos! This makes a refreshing change from mysteriousness of releases such as Flashback and Another World.

- Blowtorches are not only dangerous to run into, they throw out fireballs too. Stay away if possible.

Controlling the sprite is surprisingly easy. Zool can punch, spin jump, hang, climb, cling and shoot bullets. Although most of his actions can hardly be separated, executing a spin jump allows Zool to jump much further and as he can cling to objects, there is no such thing as an out of reach platform. All parts of the level become accessible and this makes the adventure much more fun.

Fans of arcade adventures will love Zool. It's absolutely huge, there's loads to do and it's totally addictive.

It may be a little too samey for most, but it's certainly the best fun I've had for ages. Anyway, this is something you'll come back to time and time again - even after you've completed it!

- You'll be fooled into thinking that the toy world is absolutely easy-peasy to get through. It would be too, if it wasn't for overhead planes dropping bombs on you every now and again.

At this moment, there are over two thousand thunderstorms taking place in space.

STREETS OF RAGE 2

SEGA • £29.99 • OUT NOW

A year has passed since the deadly syndicate was broken and the death of Mr X. Peace now prevails in the city. The once empty neighbourhoods are returning to normal with fresh faces inhabiting the once deserted streets. As we all know, nothing goes this smoothly for the SOR gang. So, to set the action in full swing Adam's brother, Eddie, frantically calls for help when he returns to find his home in ruins.

Streets of Rage featured just two characters, but now there are three: Axel, Blaze and the new member of the team, Skate. Six stages and a two-player option have been included and the graphics are almost perfect making this is a particularly impressive conversion from the original, and bigger, Mega Drive version.

The six power-ups and two weapons are hidden in various locations and provide easier gameplay. The impressively wide variety of moves can be used to beat-up the continuous hoards of attackers, thus giving a variety in gameplay.

If you are a beat-'em-up fan with a Game Gear this has to be high on your games shopping list. The quality of the graphics, sound and remarkable resemblance to the 16-bit version, makes this a title to own.

CHESTER CHEETAH: TOO COOL TO FOOL

KANEKO • £39.99 • OUT NOW

Chester Cheetah is an American corn snack star from the front of Cheeto crisps. In this game, he proudly presents his first console appearance as he claims to be too cool to fool. This is a matter of opinion, but from first impressions, shades and all, he may be telling the truth. It's time to see if the candid star can keep in the limelight.

Your goal is to find the exit that is often hidden away from the main playing area. Before this, if you want to do things properly, you need to collect all the small paw print symbols. The larger prints replenish your life gauge and the guitar stops everything as Chester bursts into song. To stop you from reaching your destination various creatures and curious looking 'thingies' attack you from all corners.

Chester Cheetah offers little that hasn't been seen before in better quality releases, but, it is full of life and humour so should be favourable with younger minds. Overall, though, this is a platform adventure which may include various styles of gameplay and puzzle solving, but fails to match up to recent Konami releases such as Tiny Toons and Rocket Knight Adventures.

control network is angry and looking for revenge, so it's time to do battle.

An arsenal of weapons and power-ups are at your disposal and mayhem breaks out as bullets and missiles fly everywhere. The action is very fast and the Game Gear handles this uncommon speed very well. There are no sprite collision detection problems and the overall feel of the game is very smooth. The graphics and sound are both very good and match up to most Game Gear releases currently available.

Despite a repetitive nature of gameplay, T2 The Arcade Game is a worthy investment and ideal for long journeys. If you enjoyed the coin-op or fancy taking on the Terminators at their own game, this is the one. If you aren't used to a cursor control-style game, you would be well advised to try before you buy.

SNAKE, RATTLE AND ROLL

SEGA • £39.99 • OUT NOW

You must reclaim the royal flag from the evil Bigfoot and restore health to the planet of serpentine. This complicated plot with such a simple solution makes for compelling viewing, or so it once did.

Few games, so simple and yet so challenging, appear on the Mega Drive. This is one of those games that will have you tearing your hair out in massive clumps! The concept is fairly simple: you are a snake and you must eat coloured Nibbly Pibbleys until you are back up to normal weight. When you are heavy enough you can leave the level through a hidden exit, but there is much, much more to keep you occupied along the way.

Right from the start of the game a thirsty looking Snake is off on a mission.

As well as Nibbly Pibbleys, there are bonus power-ups and hidden rooms. The isometric view gives the best possible angle and is very similar in structure to Marble Madness. The groovy music on every level and challenging gameplay keeps you coming back for more. If this was out a year ago, it would have been simply brilliant. As it is, it's a dated concept that is unlikely to be popular with anyone, but old reminiscents and the very young.

This month we have a selection of games that we have been unable to fit in the main review section. Particular attention has been paid to the requests of Game Gear owners, begging for more reviews, and what better can we offer than the on-shelf Streets of Rage 2 and soon to be released Ecco. Jason Johnson and Mark Hill give you the low-down on what's good, bad and ugly.

Hoping to continue the success of the Mega Drive and Mega-CD version, the loveable Ecco is back. It's moody atmospheric qualities and long-lasting attributes have made this one of the best titles ever. Game Gear owners are in for a real treat with a whole new standard of handheld gameplay as the 4Mbit cartridge comes to town.

As a lonely dolphin you must rescue the world. The lost pod holds the timeless secrets and it's a battle against the tide to solve the ocean's mysterious puzzles. A maze of caverns incorporating absolutely loads of logic puzzles must be searched from top to bottom, with 17 levels of dangerous waters to swim through. As with the Mega Drive and Mega-CD formats, the size and complexity of the game give it long-lasting appeal.

Ecco is one of the best games you can buy for the Game Gear and the sheer size is breathtaking. The graphics are very good with animated sprites swimming about everywhere. Unfortunately the sound isn't quite up to the standard of other formats, but it's still provides you with a nautical feel. Ecco the Dolphin is simply brilliant and you just have to buy it.

KEIO FLYING SQUAD

TOKEI • £49.99 • OUT NOW

The flying squad are on a mission in this five level shoot-'em-up. Your flying machine comes in the shape of a bird, and with the help of powerful weapons, it's a case of thumb to the trigger all the way.

The most disappointing point about this is that it's a CD release. There are so many mediocre releases on CD now that it's almost pointless purchasing the unit at all. Keio flying Squad's presentation screens are typically Japanese with colourful cartoon characters and harmless fictional creatures, but the general outlay of the game contains bland and unoriginal ideas that will disappoint most players.

The action is suitably hectic as each power-up has its own characteristics that offer the player some element of strategy amongst the general shower of firepower. The trouble is, how many shoot-'em-ups comprise flash-hit bosses in a standard right-to-left screen scroll? The high level of detail and originality in the drawings of each sprite don't compensate for ageing ideas. You'd have to look towards releases, such as Gunstar Heroes, where the game format changes to find elements of originality and lasting interest.

SEGAPro is Britain's first Sega magazine to comprehensively cover both official and import games. Our experience and knowledge is crammed into each game review. We know more about Sega games than anyone else and that is reflected in the quantity and quality of the information we provide each and every month.

Definitive? Well, we think so. You won't find a more extensive guide in any other magazine. Every month, we'll update the listings, with all new entries highlighted. Many game ratings will change to reflect long-term interest and dating – most games become less impressive as technology develops and newer games become available. Each game rating is what we think now, not what we thought when the game was first released.

Regular readers will be aware that ProPick has been replaced. We now print our Top 100 Sega games every month and all ProYo! games (scoring 90% and over) will be highlighted in red throughout the file.

Not only one, but three charts from the big game retailers Virgin Mega Stores, HMV and Our Price on Mega Drive, Master System, Game Gear and, when it is in full swing, Mega-CD.

Send in your high scores for any game that you think you've mastered. Every month we'll print a list of games that we want high scores for. An overall winner, as judged by the Pros, will receive a SEGAPro T-shirt!

IMPORT

Aircraft combat shoot-'em-up. Progress through the multiple level classic using a basic range of weapons. Totally out-dated, but still fun. 64%

688 ATTACK SUB

SEGA

Submarine sims are few and far between, but this little beauty shows that it is possible to do a credible job. It's very hard to get into, but the effort is worth it. 68%

ADDAMS FAMILY

ACCLAIM

With super graphics and hundreds of hidden rooms, this offers compelling and addictive gameplay. Only the standard platform concept pulls this down from the likes of Mario. 84%

ADVANCED WW2 SIMULATOR

IMPORT

This is one difficult game to play. You'll need a strong knowledge of the Japanese language. Pity really, because there's a great game hidden behind it all. 66%

AERO BLASTERS

IMPORT

Too short and easy. Just another shoot-'em-up. Simultaneous two-player is fun, but there are better games in the genre. 62%

AFTER BURNER II

SEGA

Very accurate portrayal of the hydraulic coin-op. However, it's a bit easy and suffers from too much repetition of tedious tasks. 62%

AIR DIVER

IMPORT

Similar to After Burner II in both looks and playability. It has more challenging play with a wider variety of opponents and tough guardians. 73%

ALESTY (MUSHA)

IMPORT

This is one fun vertically scrolling shoot-'em-up. Detailed graphics, but like similar games, it may prove just too easy for most MD players. 77%

ALEX KIDD IN ENCHANTED CASTLE

SEGA

This platform adventure has loads of games and is packed with an average selection of adversaries, but the whole scenario becomes very boring. 62%

FLYING EDGE

May go down as the fantastic platform shoot-'em-up that never was. Nice graphics and sound, but not much to challenge even the beginner. 77%

ALIEN STORM

SEGA

This horizontal alien shoot-'em-up is just far too easy. The two-player option is fun and the graphics good, but it'll all be over too soon. 74%

ALISIA DRAGON

SEGA

Alisia Dragon is one tough chick. You must help her through eight stages in the style of Valis. Few lives and tough guardians, very challenging. 82%

ALTERED BEAST

SEGA

The first game to impress Mega Drive owners. The graphics are flickery and response slow. Usually given away free – nuff said... 48%

AMBITION OF CAESAR

IMPORT

Only for real fans of strategy games. Fortunately the graphics are excellent and will keep you enthralled for ages. Sadly, it's very hard to get into. 73%

AMERICAN GLADIATORS

IMPORT

First we had wrestling giants, now flesh-pounding Gladiators. Six events to compete in and master before you're a true Gladiator. 67%

ANDRE AGASSI TENNIS

TECMAGIK

Each computerised competitor was digitised from real life action, making this a fast and furious tennis game. Sprites are well drawn, though they move a little too quickly. 59%

VIRGIN

Revolutionary vector graphics, beautiful animation and highly addictive gameplay. Can be frustrating, but it's a big game with lots of puzzles and action. 91%

AQUATIC GAMES

ELECTRONIC ARTS

James Pond, the fishy star, stars in a series of classy, but fun sports. Enthralling graphics and gameplay make this one of the best sporting events ever. 82%

ARCH RIVALS

FLYING EDGE

Hop, skip and punch your way through this manic basketball extravaganza. It's great fun for the first hour or so, but the novelty soon wears off and its mediocrity becomes apparent. 65%

ARCUS ODYSSEY

IMPORT

RPG in the style of Gauntlet. Two players simultaneously vandalise eight graphically excellent levels. There's a much needed password save. 84%

ARIEL: THE LITTLE MERMAID

SEGA

Use your skills, as either Ariel or Triton, to defeat the evil forces of darkness and save your buddy. Plenty of vicious sharks to deal with. 72%

ARNOLD PALMER TOUR GOLF

SEGA

One of the first golfing games, but still holding its own with the likes of PGA Tour Golf. Real feeling of being out there on the course, smacking little white balls. 81%

ARROW FLASH

SEGA

This is a very vacant shoot-'em-up. The graphics are poor, the power-ups limited and the guardians a cinch to kill. Why bother? 29%

ART ALIVE

SEGA

This innovative art package encourages you to draw within the confines of the Mega Drive. Only one problem: you can't save or print out the pictures. 39%

ASSAULT-SUIT-LEYNOS

IMPORT

Called Target Earth in the States. You are a robot who has to bash similar robots over eight moonscapes. Not much fun, but there are a few neat cheats. 42%

ATOMIC ROBOKID

IMPORT

Yet another run-of-the-mill scrolling shoot-'em-up. Definitely one for blast-'em fans who aim to collect every cart released, even if they're rubbish. 37%

ATOMIC RUNNER

SEGA

Impressive graphics and funky sound FX make this a good, solid platform shoot-'em-up. However, there are better around and this wears thin after a few hours. 59%

AXIS

IMPORT

This is a well-hidden gem. Worth seeing just for the amazing 3-D graphics, but also contains very addictive gameplay. A fine walkabout shoot-'em-up. 75%

BACK TO THE FUTURE III

SEGA

Marty McFly, animated in the worst possible taste, proves to be a serious let-down in this disappointing film licence. Don't even think of testing it out. 28%

BAD OMEN

IMPORT

This Break-Out clone fails to have enough content for the big machine. Even so, the graphics are ace, with some really tough nuts to kill. 71%

BALL JACKS

SEGA

A strange game if ever there was one.

Stealing spheres from your opponent's robot starts is fun at first, but soon becomes a futuristic bore and very, very tiresome. 28%

BART'S NIGHTMARE

ACCLAIM

Bart's in a deep sleep with a homework collection mission. The catchy cartoon effects are suited to the Bart image but the simple gameplay makes this a release for the very young. 75%

BART VS THE SPACE MUTANTS

FLYING EDGE

This is without doubt one of the toughest cartoon licences out. It's even more annoying because everything about it is so perfect; the graphics, the difficulty, the sound, etc and it's packed with challenge. 89%

BATTLETOADS

SEGA

This could be the first time the warrior toads have engaged in gory battle, but stranger things happen. This is a thoroughly slimy and violent adventure. 39%

BATMAN

SEGA

This fine conversion was only just released officially in the UK. It may get a tad boring, but the accurate graphics hold things together. 78%

BATMAN RETURNS

SEGA

Far from inspiring game that should have been much better. Totally unoriginal, with poor graphics and even worse sound. A real waste of money and time. 43%

BATMAN: REVENGE OF THE JOKER

IMPORT

Better than all the other Sega versions put together, which isn't saying much! However, large sprites and detailed backdrops show just how a Batman licence should be produced. 82%

BATTLE GOLF

IMPORT

A golden-olde arcade adventure. It's all about the exploits of a golf ball and its travels. This may not sound like the best of starting points for a game, but it's good. 72%

BATTLEMASTER

IMPORT

Excellent presentation at the start welcomes novices and the rest of the game takes off from there. It can be picked up for a lot less than most, so it's worth a look for beginners. 78%

BATTLE SQUADRON

ELECTRONIC ARTS

Its one advantage over other shoot-'em-ups is toughness challenging evenest gifted of players. If you want a great looking and sounding shooter, then this is your man! 85%

BEAST WARRIORS

IMPORT

Colourful, detailed graphics offset by terrible sound and slow jerky gameplay. Don't be fooled by pretty pictures, there's nothing nice about this game. 20%

BIMINI RUN

IMPORT

A shoot-'em-up that tries to impress with a scenario other than outer-space. Is a bit of a laugh for a while, but soon becomes repetitive and boring. 57%

BIO-HAZARD BATTLE

SEGA

With colourful, atmospheric graphics and a high difficulty setting, this has it taken, but there isn't anything new in the way of gameplay. 68%

BIO SHIP: PALADIN

IMPORT

Satisfactory two-player shoot-'em-up with cool sound and stunning level guardians. It slows down when there are too many sprites on-screen and it's pretty easy. 51%

BLOCK-OUT

ELECTRONIC ARTS

Tetris goes 3-D as you, viewing from above, attempt to fit the blocks into a well. It takes quite a while to get used to the perspective, but once you do, it's very challenging. 76%

ELECTRONIC ARTS

A platform shoot-'em-up where the character, BOB, must use all kinds of gadgets to aid him in his quest. Nice ideas, shame about the boring and unatmospheric action. 59%

BONANZA BROS

SEGA

Other than having simplistic graphics, the most flawed part of the accurate conversion is that it is very, very easy. Grab a partner and in two-player mode you'll soon have it completed. 58%

BUCK ROGERS

ELECTRONIC ARTS

Entry level RPG with the difficulty set just right for beginners. The compelling challenge means you are never short of something to do and there's a big challenge. 82%

Guide Bubby around his back garden. The cheerful music and colourful graphics can't disguise the frustrating gameplay and lack of originality which puts doubt over its stability. 61%

ELECTRONIC ARTS

The presentation builds up a terrific atmosphere. It's a shame that beneath it is a shallow beat-'em-up with few opponents and limited moves. 56%

BULLS VS LAKERS

ELECTRONIC ARTS

Re-live the 1991 NBA finals in this basketball sim. Every detail is taken care of, making the game technically accurate if nothing else. For die-hard fans only. 78%

BULLS VS BLAZERS

ELECTRONIC ARTS

A very realistic basketball sim – fast and superbly simulated. The variety of shots, dunks and slams give you a wide choice of options making the game a very playable affair. 89%

BURNING FORCE

IMPORT

A sad attempt at what should have been a thrilling blast-'em-up. It offers nothing new. The scenario, graphics and blips have been seen many times before and, sadly, may be seen a few more times too. 28%

CADASH

IMPORT

A Japanese arcade adventure. The detailed backgrounds and brightly coloured sprites make it fun to play, but the original enthusiasm soon wears off. 65%

CALIBRE .50

IMPORT

Vertical shoot-'em-ups are fairly common and to be any good they need something extra special. Calibre .50, sadly, is very mediocre. 33%

CALIFORNIA GAMES

SEGA

All of the cool sports are included in this colourful outing, but the game seems rushed, with simple graphics and gameplay. An old game that has never been updated. 65%

CAPTAIN AMERICA AND THE AVENGERS

SEGA

Another battle against the forces of evil. Worth playing in two-player mode, but if you're a sole gamer, leave it alone. It's far too easy and ultimately dated. 37%

CAPTAIN PLANET

SEGA

Join the Planetes in a typical platform adventure where good attempts to conquer evil. Captain Planet's star appearance is rather overshadowed by the dull and lifeless backgrounds. 39%

CASTLE OF ILLUSION

SEGA

A very welcoming historical strategy with excellent in-game maps etc. However, the enthralling storyline doesn't create enough fun to last for very long. 70%

CHAKAN
SEGA £39.99
Taken from the comic book series of the same name. Creative graphics give an eerie atmosphere – as does the music – but failing gameplay lets it down. 76%

CHAMPIONSHIP PRO-AM
IMPORT
This is a cross between Super Off Road and Super Sprint with good isometric view of the track. The bright graphics and super little soundtrack make it appealing. 67%

CHAMPIONSHIP BOWLING
IMPORT £37.99
An alleyway sim that's a lot of fun with four players, however, the computer is very hard to beat, but the limited action severely handicaps its appeal. 69%

CHIKI CHIKI BOYS
SEGA £39.99
This is Mega Twins and it's far too cute and far too easy. Younger players should find a challenge hidden within, but this platform adventure offers very little. 44%

CHUCK ROCK
VIRGIN £39.99
Stone Age shenanigans in this arcade adventure. Full of jokes, this humorous quest challenges the mind and pushes your gaming skills to the hilt. 79%

CHUCK ROCK 2
CORE DESIGN £39.99
A six-level platformer with plenty of humour and fun for all ages. The parallax scrolling is used to superb effect, but the gameplay is let down as it is far too easy. 71%

Wander around Gauntless-style, shooting everything that moves. The graphics are detailed and the gameplay addictive. 77%

CRUE BALL
ELECTRONIC ARTS £39.99
Fast and furious pinball simulator. Tries to better the classic Dragon's Fury, but fails. Ten different tables and lots of bonus screens and Motley Crue music. Yukt! 69%

CURSE
IMPORT
It's a sad day when something as appalling as this is released. Its only purchase value is the novelty of having the worst ever shoot-'em-up. 0%

CYBERBALL
SEGA £19.99
Futuristic American football with metallic monsters may sound strange, but its novelty is half the draw. The inaccurate graphics let it down. 36%

CYBORG JUSTICE
SEGA £39.99
This is an average two-player beat-'em-up where the main attraction is that you can pull off the best parts of other cyborgs and bolt them on to yourself. 68%

DANGEROUS SEED
IMPORT
Novel graphics make this a real involving shoot-'em-up. There are 12 levels of alien plant terminating, ensuring this lasts for longer than your geraniums. 80%

DARIUS II
IMPORT
12 levels can be attacked in any order means that there are a variety of possible endings. That alone should satisfy any shoot-'em-up player. 83%

DARK CASTLE
ELECTRONIC ARTS £34.99
The soundtrack is the only saving grace of this tedious offering. Jerky character animation and poor collision detection will have you reaching for the off button. 50%

DARWIN 4081
IMPORT
Shooting those classy little aliens can prove to be a chore at times, but with Darwin 4081 it's simply a pleasure. Spectacular graphics. 81%

DAVE ROBINSON'S SUPREME COURT
SEGA £39.99
The view from the stands may be strange, but it is by far one of the best ways of playing this sport on small screen. Brilliant in all areas, but a pity the players aren't real. 84%

DAVIS CUP TENNIS
TENGEN £39.99
Four tournaments and plenty of options makes this a complete tennis package where the gameplay can be a lot of fun despite a very fast ball speed. 83%

DEADLY MOVES
IMPORT
Poor attempt at a Street Fighter II clone with each wrestler having limited moves and only one special attack. Lacks polish, excitement and just about everything else. 51%

DEATH DUEL
RAZORSOFT £39.99
A shoot-'em-up which offers more than just a blast. Extremely tough and ultra-fast gameplay to keep you on your toes, but too repetitive. 42%

DICK TRACY
SEGA £19.99
Loads of neat cartoon statics and a decent attempt at character sprites, but the gameplay lacks originality. This is best version of the game. 71%

DINOLAND
IMPORT
Devil Crash on a diet. Gone are the complex, atmospheric graphics and pounding sound. While poor scrolling and simple gameplay have been added – give it a miss. 43%

DOUBLE CLUTCH
SEGA £39.99
Radio controlled cars never did hold kids' attention for very long and this Mega Drive version isn't much better either. Although gameplay is fairly interesting, the graphics and controls aren't up to much. 78%

DJ BOY
IMPORT
While there's loads of originality in DJ Boy – a beat-'em-up on roller-skates (?) – it is simple and too easy. 59%

DOUBLE DRAGON
BALUSTIC £29.99
A treat for fans of the arcade. Two players can jump and punch their way through the three stages of the city. Much better than the sequel. 72%

DOUBLE DRAGON II
IMPORT
Everything is bad – even the sound! The graphics are flickery, characters slow to respond and gameplay tiresome. 29%

DOUBLE DRAGON 3
FLYING EDGE £39.99
Hopefully the final episode in the abysmal Double Dragon battle. Five stages of repetitive and graphically useless, street fighting. 35%

DRACULA

MEGA DRIVE LEVEL SKIP

Mike Anderson from Frome is currently struggling with this game. Don't worry, you're not the only one. Fortunately, Karl Booth from Sheffield sent in a bundle of tips and cheats for the game. The most useful of these being the level skip. To get this, press PAUSE on joystick and then hold DOWN, LEFT and START. Press B on joystick two and a pass will be displayed on-screen. Press C on the second joystick and you'll skip to the next round.

ALIEN³

At the beginning of the game, go on to the option screen and put your credit (tries) up to nine. Then press the following buttons on Pad Two: C, up, right, down, left, A, right, down, START. You should now hear a bleep to indicate the cheat is active. After this, start the game as usual. To skip a level, press START, C, A, B and the screen will flash green. Press START again and you'll go on to the next level.

Simultaneously press A, B and C to have a victory in every race.

SPIDER-MAN

SEGA £19.99
All the bad guys are here along with some excellent story-telling screens. Doggy collision detection makes for frustrating gameplay. 85%

NAMCO £39.95
Chainsaw machismo at its fiercest. Eight stages of blood-thirsty and totally tasteless graphics, combined with equally sadistic music. 86%

SPORTS TALK BASEBALL

SEGA £39.95
A difficult simulator to pull-off, but this is a real winner. Graphically excellent and great fun. Very difficult to beat the computer. 80%

STAR CRUISER

IMPORT
Completely unplayable due to Japanese text. Try it out if you must, but interest could soon wane. 35%

STARFLIGHT

ELECTRONIC ARTS £49.99
Deep space mining is the name of this game. Plenty of combat, but also plenty of strategy. Beware of repetition, though. 80%

STEEL EMPIRE

ACCLAIM £39.95
A horizontal shoot-'em-up with huge sprites that seem innovative, but exterminating wave after wave of them becomes monotonous. 50%

STEEL TALONS

DOMARK £39.99
The MD hasn't been utilised to its full potential and fails to impress as much as the arcade game. Chopper combat at a lower level. 54%

STORMLORD

IMPORT
A cutesy adventure game with intriguing, but not difficult, puzzles. Instantly likeable, but too hard, making it repetitive and quite boring. 73%

STREET SMART

SEGA £34.99
This beat-'em-up's gameplay is limited due to the small array of martial arts moves. It's also very easy to complete the game on your first go. 67%

STREETS OF RAGE

SEGA £34.99
This was widely accepted as the most gruesome beat-'em-up when first released, but it penultimately lacks challenge. Moves are wide-ranging and the sound effects and tunes awesome, but it could all be over on the first go. 83%

STREETS OF RAGE II

SEGA £44.99
An good beat-'em-till-they-bleed offering. The massive 16Mbit cart has been used to its full potential. Teampay and versus modes make the overall game something to relish, if that's what you like. 87%

STRIDER

SEGA £19.99
All stages, bar the last, are easily completed. The graphics on some will have you awe-struck, but too many sprites on screen causes the dreaded slowdown syndrome. 87%

STRIDER II

US GOLD £39.99
This action-packed platformer follows the tradition of the original, although it's been totally revamped for a more modern feel. Unfortunately, there are no passwords, so it's going to be a fair while before you finish it. 76%

SUMMER CHALLENGE

ACCOLADE £34.99
Budding athletes are given eight different summer time sports. The sprites are well animated and very realistic, but unfortunately, events are too short. Gameplay is also a little dated to say the least. 52%

SUNSET RIDERS

KONAMI £39.99
Authentic cowboy and indian action is similar to coin-op, but with less detailed graphics. One of the best platform shooters around that shouldn't be ignored. 85%

SUPER AIRWOLF

IMPORT
Also known as Crossfire, this shoot-'em-up certainly packs a punch. Very fast gameplay and superb graphics makes it a winner, but it ultimately lacks variation. 53%

SUPER BATTLETANK

IMPORT
This tank sim may appeal to your basic instincts, but complete and utter boredom sets in. Far too easy to offer any challenge and nowhere near realistic. 44%

SUPER BASEBALL 2020

ELECTRONIC ARTS £49.99
Robots and human are mixed in a futuristic version of the standard American game. Steel balls and tough armour make this a typically lethal and worthwhile release despite being over-priced. 82%

SUPER FANTASY ZONE

SEGA £34.99
Small sprites with extras including power-ups and big guardians. Coking good fun for a few hours, but after that your eyes may become weary. 67%

SUPER HANG-ON

SEGA £19.99
Super smooth scrolling at a mind-numbing pace ensures you'll get the thrill of motor biking every time you play this. The feel of racing is perfectly captured. 82%

SUPER HIGH IMPACT

IMPORT
A total of 18 teams should give American football fans something to find of interest. Good animation, but a lack of challenge due to the omission of a league. 73%

SUPER HQ

IMPORT
It's been over four years since Chase HQ was in the arcades and Super HQ certainly reminds you of this fact and offers very little. 52%

SUPER HYDLIDE

SEGA £19.99
Some RPGs just don't have what it takes to attract. In this, there just isn't enough to do; not enough people and very few places. Very boring. 49%

SUPER KICK OFF

US GOLD £44.99
May have been the best in its day, but although the scrolling is flawless, it is hard to control players' actions. Worth a look, though. 77%

SUPER LEAGUE BASEBALL

SEGA £34.99
Baseball is an essentially repetitive game. To stave off the boredom, there has to be loads of features and this should offer enough of these to keep you enthralled. One of the decent attempts at the sport. 82%

SUPERMAN

VIRGIN £39.99
Different to the import version, although it still doesn't quite hit the mark. Battle your way through five levels of traditional platform gameplay and watch out for the fiddly controls. 80%

SUPER MILITARY

IMPORT
This looks like a great little war game. There are loads of super statics that really build up the tension and set the scene for a very challenging confrontation. 80%

SUPER MONACO GP

SEGA £34.99
Lacks just one thing, a two-player mode. Everything else is here, especially the gameplay which makes you feel as if you're racing around the top GP circuits. 85%

SUPER MONACO GRAND PRIX II

SEGA £49.99
An absolutely rubbish racing simulator. Pretty graphics and all that, but useless gameplay and a virtually nonexistent difficulty level. 41%

SUPER OFF ROAD

BALLISTIC £29.99

A brilliant conversion of the original bringing all the sights and sounds of 4x4 truck racing to the MD. One and two-player games are similarly addictive. 88%

SUPER REAL BASKETBALL

SEGA £34.99
The beautiful close-ups make this enjoyable to play. There are a few other neat effects that make this stand out from the crowd. 82%

SUPER SMASH TV

ACCLAIM £29.99
Highly acclaimed arcade game that is very tough, but successful controls and a sprite filled screen make it awesome. 85%

SUPER THUNDER BLADE

SEGA £19.99
A shoot-'em-up that's claim to fame is the two views (from behind the chopper and from above). All it does is confuse the gameplay. 73%

SUPER VOLLEYBALL

IMPORT
Taking a side-on view and scrolling the court across the screen, this is a very innovative interpretation, but you have to play the sport to enjoy it. 84%

SUPER WRESTLEMANIA

FLYING EDGE £39.99
Addictive two-player action in the ultimate WWF simulation. Wickedly detailed sprites and a barrel-full of special effects. 80%

SWORD OF SODAN

ELECTRONIC ARTS £39.99
Unbearably sluggish gameplay is a pity because the massive sprites that cause it are excellent. It's very difficult to get into and harder to like. 33%

SWORD OF VERMILION

SEGA £49.99
If you like your RPGs massive and incredibly tough, then this is just the ticket. If not, you can admire the ground-breaking graphics. 81%

TAILSPIN

SEGA £39.99
A completely boring platform game with the nice addition of a shoot-'em-up section. This doesn't improve the situation enough to make it fun. 61%

TASK FORCE HARRIER EX

IMPORT
The graphics and sound are poor, the gameplay flawed and the difficulty non-existent. An American offering that should stay that side of the Atlantic. 45%

TATSUJIN

IMPORT
Average vertically scrolling shoot-'em-up with basic control and pretty graphics, although now dated. Just another Japanese release. 46%

TAZ MANIA

SEGA £39.95
Ambient backdrops and a totally tasteful main character. A real adventure into the Taz Manian wilderness which should keep you compelled for months. 90%

TEAM USA BASKETBALL

ELECTRONIC ARTS £39.99
Excellent graphics make this simulation appear authentic, but closer inspection reveals abysmal animation and undesirable sound effects. 70%

TECHNOPOP

IMPORT
An original combination of a racing simulation and a platform game. The idea is fantastic, but the final product is absolutely rubbish. 29%

TECMO WORLD CUP '92

IMPORT
There are a few trick shots, but there's no real-life/fandom aspect and no fouls, making the two-player mode the only real fun you'll have. 51%

TECMO WORLD CUP SOCCER

IMPORT
The greatest prize in football is up for grabs and 24 countries play in this disappointing soccer sim that lacks atmosphere. Progression through the tournament is also far too easy. 51%

TECHNOCLASH

ELECTRONIC ARTS £39.99
This is a challenging RPG shoot-'em-up with a mountain of options. Only once you get into the game, do you appreciate the appealing and addictive gameplay. 84%

TEENAGE MUTANT NINJA TURTLES

KONAMI £39.99
A superb beat-'em-up in the SOR style. Bright backdrops and large colourful Turtles. A superb two-player game, but possibly too short. 83%

TEL TEL BASEBALL

IMPORT
Everything is controlled by menus, there's an option to play over modem and because the play-offs tend to go on a bit, there's battery back-up. 60%

THE TERMINATOR

VIRGIN £39.99
This terrific film licence exceeded all expectations and was a real surprise. Packed with stills from the movie and stages directly linked, arcade blasters will be amazed. 89%

TERMINATOR 2: THE ARCADE GAME

ARENA £39.99
A fantastic game which allows the use of either joypads or the Menacer.

100% compelling action helped along by superb graphics and solid sound. Nine stages of virtual realism. 92%

TEST DRIVE 2: THE DUEL

BALLISTIC £34.99
This will certainly test novices and experienced drivers alike. Its secret success lies in the excellent car handling which feels just like the real thing. 86%

THUNDER FORCE II

SEGA £34.99
Sure has stood the test of time. The challenge is strong and the overall presentation excellent, with some superb backdrops. 81%

THUNDER FORCE III

SEGA £34.99
Better than the original, this one will have you playing for ages. Those wacky backdrops make it stand out as a real arcade experience. 89%

THUNDER FORCE IV

SEGA £39.99
The latest offering in the Thunderforce adventure. Truly magnificent ultra-impressive graphics throughout and totally compelling gameplay. Shoot-'em-ups at the ultimate level. 92%

THUNDERFOX

IMPORT
It may only work on Jap machines, but don't feel as if you're missing anything here. The graphics are fun, but the sound is appalling. 33%

THUNDER PRO WRESTLING

IMPORT
The main fault is the terrible control method, but the limited moves means it's not much fun to play either. 57%

TIGER WELI

IMPORT
Previously exciting helicopter game. Unfortunately, this has seriously dated and can no longer be recommended to young or old. 28%

TINY TOON ADVENTURES

KONAMI £39.99
A wonderful adventure that borrows a lot of elements from the Warner Bros. cartoons. The colourful graphics and great animation set it apart. Fast, furious and completely mad! 90%

TOEJAM & EARL

SEGA £19.99
Destined to become a cult classic. Cartoon-style graphics and some of the best sampled sound you will ever hear. Can become tedious after a few plays, though. 88%

TOKI

SEGA £19.99
Lots of different pieces of music and arcade-quality graphics make this an ace platform game and an accurate conversion, but is too easy. 85%

TORAI TORAI TORAI

IMPORT
Also known as Fire Shark, this is an extremely average shoot-'em-up which has very little to offer to those looking for something a bit different. 75%

TOXIC CRUSADERS

IMPORT
On dear! Save the world from the threat of toxic poisoning. Take control of Toxie and help him in this dire scrolling arcade adventure. 38%

TRAMPOLINE TERROR

IMPORT
Despite the title, this has nothing to do with trampolines and there's even less terror involved. Speccy games are better than this. 20%

TRAYSIA

IMPORT
An American RPG that offers very little. Unacceptable graphics and lacking gameplay. Leave it! 17%

TROUBLE SHOOTER

IMPORT
Forgotten Worlds updated! Everything is extremely colourful and makes for a very good looking game. Not enough power-ups, though. 78%

TRUXTON

SEGA £34.99
Know as Tatsujin in Japan, this was a real hit when it was released. Although a normal, but very vertical shoot-'em-up, it's immense fun. 84%

TURBO OUT RUN

SEGA £19.99
The first Out Run was brilliant in its time, but the old formula is looking very dated. Driving is very boring, requiring little skill or thought. 52%

TURRICAN

BALLISTIC £34.99
A challenging conversion of a game that plays well. The innovative shooting technique adds a new twist into this above average platform shoot-'em-up. 81%

SUPER COBRA

SEGA £34.99
Control your helicopter through dreary battle zones in this basic scrolling shoot-'em-up that has nothing special to offer the MD player. 50%

TWIN HAWK

SEGA £34.99
Another average shoot-'em-up that is criminally easy to complete. Usual fun initially, but it doesn't last. 59%

TWINKLE TALE

IMPORT
A psychedelic Japanese shoot-'em-up that offers great value for money.

Superb intro music and a compelling storyline. Very intense and particularly challenging. 83%

TWO CRUDE DUDES

SEGA £34.99
The eponymous stars are excellent muscle men who relish the thought of going on the rampage - and so will you! This is tough. 88%

TWO TRIBES

VIRGIN £44.99
A physiological battle where the aim is to diminish the opposition's population. A well constructed strategic game which some simple, yet creative, background designs and simply hundreds of stages. 88%

ULTIMATE SOCCER

SEGA £39.99
Plenty of options are overshadowed by jerky scaling techniques and poor sprite movements in a game of football that lacks the essential atmosphere. 70%

ULTIMATE TIGER

IMPORT
Control one of the most heavily-armoured helicopters on Earth. Raw arcade blasting action with tons of weapons available to down the enemy. It's great fun. 80%

ULTIMATE QIX

IMPORT
This certainly plays like the classic board game, Othello. But, if you really must play it, why not buy the original? Basic graphics and sound with very few surprises. 55%

UNDEADLINE

WONDER BOY

SEGA £39.99

The fifth, and most probably last, game in the current series. Maybe they are trying to compete with the Friday the 13th series. Sadly, if you've played one, then you've played them all. 75%

WORLD CLASS LEADERBOARD

US GOLD £39.99

Complete with the speech samples, this old classic finally arrives on the big Sega. Sadly, it fails to capture the realism of its main competitor, PGA Tour Golf. 77%

WORLD CUP ITALIA 90

SEGA £19.99

This suffers from the same limited moves of Tecmo World Cup '92. Still, it was a brave attempt at the time and should be applauded for it. 76%

WORLD OF ILLUSION

SEGA £39.99

The wonderful world of Disney appears on the MD. This fantastic display of enchanting graphics and addictive gameplay should keep both young and old compelled. 89%

WRESTLE WAR

SEGA £19.99

Getting the moves is so infuriating that your wrestling more with the joystick than with the actual game. 74%

XDR

IMPORT £34.99

A mysterious shoot-'em-up, mainly due to the lack of information about it. Also known as X-Dazzled-Ray. 54%

XENON II

VIRGIN £34.99

Only the poor collision detection and occasional screen slowdown prevent this from being an essential shoot-'em-up purchase. 80%

X-MEN

SEGA £34.99

A conversion of the X-Men arcade would've made a much better game, but this is okay as long as you like killing things and nothing else! 78%

Y's 3: WANDERERS FROM Y'S

IMPORT £19.99

An in-depth RPG which offers a considerable challenge. Fans of tough games will love it, but if you're not one, then steer clear. 78%

ZANY GOLF

ELECTRONIC ARTS £39.99

Normal golf is a strange enough game, but this is barfy. A great party game and a very polished product. 66%

ZERO WING

SEGA £19.99

Horizontal shooter which is flawed by its small graphics and ease. Looks like R-Type, but won't give any of that game's fans any problems. 77%

ZOOM

SEGA £29.99

Painter games live on, but only just in this cheap and cheerful puzzler. Average graphics and sound. Soon gets either too boring or too frustrating. This isn't up to much. 48%

You may have noticed that we've spent some time updating the scores. So, many have changed dramatically. Tune in next month for the top Sega reference.

MS flight sims have never been complex and this isn't breaking any new ground. Average opening states, but in-game graphics are pretty dreadful. 55%

ACTION FIGHTER

The king of bleached hair and hairy stomachs, takes to the Master System. This is a fairly decent attempt to cash in on the tennis season. 84%

AERIAL ASSAULT

Ancient, but relies on old-fashioned principles of keeping the player busy. This shoot-'em-up is still quite a frenzy. Graphics and sound are now dated. 69%

Speed and frenetic action of the simple arcade machine still here. It contains all the coin-op features, even the flying flip which will send you well dizzy. 85%

ALEX KIDD IN HI-TECH WORLD

SEGA £29.99
Alex's worst outing ever. The main problem with this is the presence of a very harsh restart procedure which always places you back at the beginning when you die. 54%

ALEX KIDD IN MIRACLE WORLD

SEGA £24.99
This is undoubtedly his most successful attempt. It was designed in competition to Nintendo's Mario and uses many of the same popular and successful elements. Essential Sega software. 90%

ALEX KIDD IN SHINOBI WORLD

SEGA £29.99
Mixing ninja with a successful character. There's plenty of platform adventuring to keep you enthralled for ages. Only one player, though. 85%

ASTERIX

Whatever you do, don't miss out on this tour de force of arcade adventuring. The graphics could have been taken from the comic book, and the incidental music is more than just that. New Age MS excellence. 94%

ASTRO WARRIOR

SEGA £29.99
This Chase HQ sequel has poor graphics and dodgy controls. Full of action, but easy-peasy for anyone except real beginners. 54%

SCRAMBLE SPIRITS
SEGA £29.99
Little more than a vertically scrolling shoot-'em-up and a pretty poor one at that. With such a choice, you could find better. 44%

SECRET COMMAND
SEGA £12.99
This is very close to the Capcom Commando coin-op; it's even based in a jungle with huts and everything. Essential for any self-respecting shooter. 85%

SEGA CHES
SEGA £14.99
Functional graphics and some poor speech may put some grand masters off, but stick with it and you will find a supreme chess sim. 83%

SHADOW DANCER
SEGA £32.99
Suffers from flickery graphics and bad response rate, but there are pleasing effects such as the full screen magic and the lightning quick dog. 69%

SHADOW OF THE BEAST
TECMAGIK £29.99
Despite the obvious limitations of the MS, Tecmagik have done the business on this version of Beast. Superb visuals, excellent mood music and even some improved gameplay make it hot property! 90%

SHANGHAI
SEGA £24.99
One of the most addictive and mind-bending puzzle games around. You'll be confused at first, but your efforts will be well rewarded. 85%

SHINOBI

SEGA £14.99
There's nothing too spectacular about this beat-'em-up. There are only five simplistic levels with stranded kids and that should easily be a doddle for most players. 79%

SHOOTING GALLERY
SEGA £24.99
This is highly over-priced. Only four simple rounds of shooting various targets. Much better with a few players, so grab the family and gather round. 70%

SHOOTING GAMES
SEGA £24.99
Hone your light gun skills with three varying types of game - marksman shooting, trap shooting and safari hunt. Excellent value. 72%

SLAP SHOT
SEGA £29.99
Like its MD counterpart, EA Hockey, Slap Shot is easy to get into and has all the added extras like bawling and dodgy umpiring. Don't worry if you don't like the real thing, this is pretty manic. 76%

SONIC THE HEDGEHOG
SEGA £29.99
Totally excellent conversion proving that the MS can retain some originality. Sharing many of the characteristics of the MD version, this mini-arcade adventure is super-fast and instantly compelling. 92%

SONIC THE HEDGEHOG 2
SEGA £32.99
A fantastic version of the most famous game in the world, but it's bugged. Sonic 2 is simply the best game on the MS, but don't be too disappointed when Tails doesn't appear. 95%

SPACE GUN
SEGA £29.99
If you're a dab hand with the Phaser, this title should bring a smile to your face. Not the best shooter so far, but reasonably good graphics. 56%

SPACE HARRIER
SEGA £14.99
There's no way of restarting or continuing on any of the 18 levels - even arcade players will be tested here. An accurate and playable conversion. Available in a dreadful 3-D version for a tenner less. 84%

SPEEDBALL 2
VIRGIN £29.99
Jump into the future and play a vicious game of handball. The graphics are superb and the playability still as great as ever. 89%

SPILLCASTER
SEGA £14.99
One of the greatest and toughest RPGs on the MS, ranking almost as good as Phantasy Star. The vast adventure will take you underground, through space and time and even to the land of the dead. 90%

SPIDER-MAN
SEGA £29.99
Doesn't have the playability. It's very tedious bashing enemies, but there's a compelling storyline. Credible cartoon beat-'em-up. 80%

SPORTS PAD FOOTBALL
SEGA £29.99
Another sports simulation which relies on the defunct Sega Sports Pad. A good footy sim, but the control pad may prove impossible to find. 64%

SPY VS SPY
SEGA £17.99
The stars of MAD magazine retain their appeal and the game has one player sniggering when the other walks into his traps. Great. 90%

STAR WARS
US GOLD £32.99
This conversion from the classic film features five absorbing and fast levels of shoot-'em-up platform action where you must rescue the prisoners and chase the mighty Darth Vader! 89%

STRIDER
SEGA £14.99
The graphics and sound are as expected, but the main character is very sluggish, especially in jumps. Dubious long-term appeal. 79%

STRIDER II
US GOLD £29.99
Very similar to the original Strider in that the main character is a tad slow, but it's challenging. Run-of-the-mill graphics and little to inspire. 75%

STREETS OF RAGE
SEGA £29.99
This has been excellently converted to fit into the AMBit cart and could have been the best beat-'em-up on the Master System, but without a two-player option it's debatable. 89%

SUBMARINE ATTACK
SEGA £29.99
You take charge of a submarine and progress through the seaworld, while shooting anything that moves. It's like a poor water-bound R-Type. 68%

SUMMER GAMES
SEGA £29.99
This is a real disappointment. The graphics are hopeless; the sprites small and terribly animated and the backgrounds contain no detail. Give it a miss. 40%

SUPER KICK OFF
US GOLD £29.99
All the features, bar the all-important playability. The action slows down with three or more players on-screen which is a bit of a shame. 80%

SUPERMAN
VIRGIN £32.99
An atmospheric platformer that suits our superhero down to the ground. Each level contains a variety of well drawn backgrounds and impressive sprite animation. 78%

SUPER MONACO GP
SEGA £29.99
A simultaneous split-screen two-player mode makes for bad graphics. A poor atmosphere is created by flimsy backgrounds and unrealistic animation. 68%

SUPER MONACO GP II
SEGA £34.99
A useless motor racing simulation which fails to create any kind of enthusiasm. The graphics are dire and the whole game should be avoided at all costs. 21%

SUPER REAL BASKETBALL
SEGA £24.99
Excellent two-player action with some brilliant close-ups. Good all the way through and tough to beat at higher one-player levels. 85%

SUPER SMASH TV
ACCLAIM £29.99
A long awaited conversion which is nothing more than average. Repetitive flicker, sound and gameplay all rolled into one - and it's too hard. 65%

VIRGIN £29.99
Each of the 12 dirt tracks increase in difficulty to provide the stage for some absorbing bumper-to-bumper, rough and tumble fun. Sprites are a little shoddy, but the speed compensates for this. 84%

SUPER SPACE INVADERS
DOMARK £32.99
Original waves and a sensational simultaneous two-player option set this above any clone. 82%

SUPER TENNIS
SEGA £9.99
This price of this keeps dropping! The graphics are childish, the sound appalling and it completely fails to capture any of the sport's fun. 29%

TAZ-MANIA

SEGA £29.99
The graphics are bright and the atmosphere is perfect. Take control of Taz and guide him through level after level of classy platform action. Accurate cartoon conversion. 81%

TECMO WORLD CUP '93
SEGA £29.99
Very different from the arcade, but still plays well on the MS. Fast and furious action from start to finish, but it isn't the best and is a poor release. 69%

TEDDY BOY
SEGA £29.99
Simple in concept, but superbly implemented and subsequently very addictive and playable. However, be warned it's a very cute platform game that may make you sick. 70%

TENNIS ACE
SEGA £14.99
Forget Super Tennis. There's a great side-on close-up of the server and the view down onto the court works well. Tennis fans should apply here for the next tourney. 83%

THE TERMINATOR
SEGA £34.99
Although only a measly four levels, this game is packed with direct scenes from the film ensuring all Arnie fans will be happy it's just about as tough as the man himself and won't be completed in a hurry. 90%

THUNDER BLADE
SEGA £14.99
There's a great game here just waiting to burst out. However, even the decent graphics can't hide that it has some dodgy collision detection and that alone shortens its appeal. 65%

TIME SOLDIERS
SEGA £29.99
The coin-op was based was a fairly torrid affair. More time is spent running from enemies than fighting them and this gets very tedious. 36%

TOAD AND JERRY
SEGA £29.99
You're likely to finish this cartoon adventure far too quickly. 2MBits worth of pleasant to look at platform comedy, but it won't be for long. 74%

TRANSBOT
SEGA £9.99
Oh dear! It has all the usual elements; shoot-'em-up, based in a post nuclear world and invading aliens, but it's so badly programmed that Transbot is pretty awful. 26%

TRAP SHOOTING
SEGA £29.99
As the title suggests, this is a clay pigeon shooting sim. Not exactly wonderful to play, but the well-animated targets can prove fun to hit. Limited appeal. 45%

TRIVIAL PURSUIT
DOMARK £29.99
This game is ideal for a large group to play, but not for soloists. Cheerful graphics and a comical cartoony presenter with potentially tough questions. 81%

ULTIMA IV
SEGA £39.99
If you like RPGs such as Phantasy Star and SpellCaster, then you should have this in your collection. It's vast, challenging and it comes with a great manual and map. 92%

ULTIMATE SOCCER
SEGA £29.99
Plenty of options and challenging competitions make this a well put together footy sim that has good graphics and addictive gameplay. 84%

VIGILANTE
SEGA £29.99
This coin-op conversion is a very simple beat-'em-up, but worthy of praise for the sheer enjoyment, but the game is simplified slightly in its translation.

77%

WWF: STEEL CAGE

ACCLAIM £32.99
Wrestling isn't the best sport in the world, but the WWF superstars seem to have made it seem so. This is a very plausible attempt to re-create the action. 79%

WANTED
SEGA £24.99
Rootin' tootin' varmint-blowing Phaser fun as you are appointed sheriff of the town and told to clean up the place. You might even enjoy it and the extra controls are welcomed! 78%

WIMBLEDON
SEGA £14.99
Centre court has never been so good on the MS. Realistic graphics and superb animations made even better by super-fast play. This is a tennis sim of the highest standard. 90%

WOLFCHILD

VIRGIN £29.99
A very ordinary, run-of-the-mill platformer where you shoot the bad guys and collect hearts for power. Everything about this release is average and a little dull. 72%

WONDER BOY
SEGA £24.99
This still holds much appeal for many arcade adventurers. Sadly, everything - all the graphics, sound effects, etc - are very dated now. 81%

WONDER BOY IN MONSTERLAND
SEGA £29.99
The Boy's second outing continues the challenging gameplay. You've 12 levels to progress through and the action is constantly fast and the baddies furious. Buy it, play it, and you won't regret it. Honest. 89%

WONDER BOY IN MONSTERWORLD
SEGA £29.99
An all round stunner! Huge game area, great graphics and a few puzzles thrown in for good measure. Can you do without this one? 90%

WONDER BOY III: DRAGON'S TRAP
SEGA £29.99
If you like the others, you'll go wild over the third outing which is the best by miles. You must again hack your way along the path, but you are helped out by shops, that sell weapons, along the route. A great arcade adventure without hedgehogs or ducks. Now that has to be worth something! 93%

WOODY POP
SEGA £19.99
This may be hard to get hold of as it uses the Paddle Control, which is no longer available. Cutesy graphics, but that's about it. 47%

WORLD CLASS LEADER BOARD
US GOLD £29.99
A quality golf sim with all the bells and whistles. All you need for a round or two, including a full set of clubs, hazards galore and masses of playability. 83%

WORLD CUP ITALIA 90
SEGA £24.99
It's a lot easier to control the ball in this than Kick Off, but ultimately you feel more like you're playing a table-top pub game than the real thing. 77%

WORLD GAMES

SEGA £24.99
This old chestnut is definitely middle-of-the-road software. None of the games are truly bad, but none stand out as worth much play. 65%

WORLD GRAND PRIX
SEGA £12.99
This has the basic element - cars - but fails to have the other important things, like decent graphics, sound and opponents. 70%

WORLD TOURNAMENT GOLF
SEGA £32.99
Thankfully, this golfing sim comes across fairly well on the MS. There are many different competitions to enter and the controls are very easy to master. 75%

WORLD SOCCER
SEGA £24.99
A horizontally scrolling footer. The players are bigger than in most games, but the odd perspective makes it hard to direct the ball. 63%

XENON II
VIRGIN £29.99
You'll have great difficulty telling the difference between the 16-bit original and this version. Great stuff, but there are some dodgy collisions. 85%

Y'S: THE VANISHED OMENS
SEGA £32.99
An excellent RPG, but doesn't have the playability of Ultima, Phantasy Star and SpellCaster. Even so, it's a real puzzler. 84%

ZAXXON 3-D
SEGA £19.99
Great in the arcades, but not here. The graphics are appalling, the sound irritating and the gameplay unrecognisable. 42%

ZILLION
SEGA £24.99
The Norsa forces are expanding and you must blow them up. Some great statics and a decent storyline help create an involving atmosphere. 67%

ZILLION II
SEGA £24.99
Identical to the original, with the evil Baron Ricks up to his old tricks. He's captured your friends and you must help them soon. Gripping stuff. 67%

THE PROFILE

GAME GEAR

AERIAL ASSAULT
SEGA £25.00
Oh dear! A totally useless air-combat game to be avoided at all costs! Graphics offer nothing to the imagination and gameplay is virtually nonexistent. 42%

ARENA £27.99
All action platform game with superb graphics and atmospheric tunes. Alien³ offers these impressive qualities and challenging gameplay to match. Ideal for beginners and experts. 88%

ALIEN SYNDROME
SIMS CO IMPORT
The conversion of a really old arcade has done the Game Gear proud. It's absolutely packed with content and features some of the most inspired guardians you'll ever see. 83%

ANDRE AGASSI TENNIS
TECHNAC £27.99
A poor tennis release with major flaws in the opponent's skill level difference and sprite display. Without a gear-link as well, this just does not deliver the goods on the small screen. 48%

ARIEL: THE LITTLE MERMAID
SEGA £24.99
Ariel may look the business, but that's as far as it goes. A waste of a Disney licence and not much fun unless you're a beginner. 71%

AX-BATTLER
SEGA IMPORT
One of the stars of Golden Axe features in his own game. Be warned, this is a very Japanese-based RPG and nothing like the great Golden Axe. It's very unfriendly and poorly executed. 56%

The ever-fearless Grant uses more than one of his abilities to find a way through the opening level, The Jungle. Swinging across the vines is a particularly useful means of travel at the most difficult parts of the game and is a common occurrence.

The man of many talents now puts another movement into use as the steep ladders pose a problem. As you can see, it's a good idea to stun the dinosaur at the top before even thinking about climbing up to cross over the power cable.

JUNGLE

Do not stun the Triceratops; jump on its back and hop down onto the ledge to leap across the gap. Walk two or three paces forward and duck, stunning the dino in front. Proceed carefully along the higher ledges of the Jungle and the deadly spikes won't trouble you. However, flying dinos will attack from the skies and you must shoot them down.

Sinister goings on have been terrifying the SEGAPro staff into begging for mercy. "No-more, I cannot take this torture" can be heard in the Paragon corridors. "What's their problem?" I hear you cry. Well, that tricky dinosaur game Jurassic Park is the culprit. If you're having one or two hang-ups with this platform adventure, your prayers are about to be answered. Jason Johnson digs deep and discovers its hidden secrets.

You will arrive at an area where you're unable to continue along the higher ledges and must drop down. At the bottom there's a pit of spikes – avoid this by jumping and leaning right. As you drop through the vines of the Jungle be especially careful of falling further than necessary – it may be just too far for Grant to survive.

Glide down the slopes and enter the hidden caves to the far right edge of the Jungle, not forgetting to collect as many power-ups as possible. Wait on the ledge that faces right and where boulders repeatedly tumble down. Just as one falls down, drop below the Triceratops and jump across the gaps until you reach the far side. A tricky drop to the exit will see you into the second level. If you're using the Raptor, follow the same directions and you'll find Grant in the same place.

Step onto the crate and jump up to reach the red-banded darts. Very useful when running out of ammo.

POWER STATION

There's nothing particularly difficult about this level; you're aiming for the bottom-right section. If you're using the Raptor, life is extremely simple; just jump on each of the soldiers as and when they appear and attack the dinosaurs when you need to.

To reach higher platforms and ledges it's a good idea to use the crates scattered about the early part of the level.

JURASSIC PARK

WHOSE BABY ARE YOU?

The real stars are the dinosaurs. They behave just as we believe they did. Here's a 'who's who' on dinosaurs from the game.

1. Brachiosaur
 2. Dilophosaur
 3. Procompsognathus (Compy)
 4. Pteradon
 5. Raptor
 6. Triceratops
- Tyrannosaurus Rex (back)

They can be dragged across the screen to give you a much needed boost. Remember to hold up simultaneously with the jump button and the Raptor will jump even higher.

Towards the end of the level there are one or two problems still remaining. The electrified fence challenges Grant into climbing to the top without being electrocuted. It's a good idea to use the platforms on the right and wait momentarily until the charge changes direction.

Continue using the normal method of killing perpetrators and avoiding electrical charges to exit in the bottom-right corner of the level. It's easy to find and once you've stunned the T-Rex you can pass him, then drop down and escape.

RIVER (GRANT ONLY)

Judging your way down the river is not an easy task and you'll probably find the going tough. Dropping off the edge of a waterfall often leads to the problem of not knowing which way to steer the dinghy. If you follow the rule to steer the opposite way that the water is flowing you should be safe.

You will notice ledges with dinosaurs and power-ups are scattered along the river bank. Collecting as many as possible will prove vital as you reach the later levels. A T-Rex which appears out of the bank will not let you pass unless you stun it with several darts or grenades. Use three or four red-banded darts to do the job properly. The second T-Rex should be dealt with in a similar manner and your path is clear to continue to the lower regions.

To find a hidden underground lake you must pass the T-Rex and continue downstream until there is an area on the right where you can jump out of the dinghy onto the river bank. Do this and you'll find a third dinghy which you must use to go down the middle set of falls and into the underground lake. Once here, go right and wait for the Brachiosaurus to sink into the water. Run right, jump over or kill the Triceratops and exit.

HOLY BALONEY

The various weapons available to would be dino-killers each have their own use, be it close combat or long-distance shooting.

Blue-banded darts

Not particularly powerful, but there are plenty to be found.

Red-banded darts

This is the best dart Grant can use. It stuns a dinosaur immediately.

Stun Gun

Hold the fire button down for improved fire-power.

Gas grenades

Very useful from a distance and a common power-up.

Flash grenades

This is very effective as it blinds the dino, but is difficult to aim in a rush.

Concussion grenades

Very easy to use, but not particularly effective.

Rockets

Ultimate weapon. Very, very accurate and powerful.

PUMPING STATION

As the Raptor, kill the guards and collect food where possible. Remember, the small dinos can be eaten for extra energy and they're all over the place in this dingy, damp, pumping station. You would be well advised to kill all of the guards in your path.

After leaping out of the initial area where various tricky jumps must be cleared, proceed right. Kill the guards and when you arrive at the point where you're facing left with nowhere to go, drop down and land on the protruding platform. Repeatedly jump right using the platform and you'll arrive at a brick wall. Pounce-attack this wall and it'll crumble, allowing you to proceed. Use the various walkways and aim for the far right area of the screen. Drop down and fall left to exit.

If you are using Grant in the Pumping Station you must press several switches along the way. Do this and a similar path to that of the Raptor (described above) will lead you to the exit. As usual, kill the dinosaurs and collect as many power-ups as you can find to ensure your success.

It's a hard life when you're not sure where you're going, so take a well earned rest on a nearby crate and watch the world go by. This is not particularly useful advice as you're likely to be blasted by hot, toxic gasses any moment, but Grant is totally stumped.

CANYON

As the Raptor, there are times when you need to kill several guards; but with just one area ridden with these rather mortal beings, little is in your way. Aim to stay in the top half of the screen - fall down a gap and you're history. Take care to avoid the Pteradons and hop along until you reach the far top-right of the screen. You will be unable to go any further across, so make your way down. Jump on the fragile rock and it'll break away beneath your claws, sending you into the Now that's not the friendliest looking dinosaur in Jurassic Park and it's a good idea to stay well clear. Those grenades over the other side could come be very handy so stun the dino with a red-banded dart and jump over to collect them.

HIDE AND SEEK

Hidden on every level of Jurassic Park are special bonus pick-ups which will either supply you with ammunition, fuel or a replenished energy bar. You must search high and low to find them, but if you don't collect these items you'll soon be extinct.

Blue/Red-banded darts

Add ammunition to your ever-decreasing supply of harmless tranquilliser darts.

Rockets

A weapon needs ammo to be of any use at all, so collect these powerful rockets.

Battery

To restore your stun gun's charge you must find a battery or two.

Gasoline

Needed to keep the dinghy motor going.

Gas/Flash /Concussion grenades

As with the darts, these add to your supply of useful grenades.

First Aid Kit

Restore health, Note: Compy dinosaurs can be eaten to increase energy.

final level.

If you're using the intrepid Grant, follow a similar method and you'll be free in no time. There are various power-ups in the lower regions of the level, but it's not wise to venture too far South. Your exit is once again to the far right. The tricky Volcano is all that stands between you and the Visitors' Centre.

VOLCANO (GRANT ONLY)

An agile and daring Grant will find the exit with ease, but if your jumping skills aren't up to scratch there could be one or two problem areas ahead. The first of these is at the beginning when you're sliding down from the third ledge, situated on the right of the crevasse. Slide down and jump before you fall off of the edge, and another ledge with a grenade power-up is within reach.

Above and below there are treacherous gaps and dinosaurs to contend with. Deal with them in the normal manner and collect as many power-ups as you can find; they'll help you through later levels. Use the staggered blocks to climb upwards. At the top of the volcano you should find several power-ups, including energy and tranquilliser darts.

You are aiming to reach the top-left section of the volcano and this is easily achieved if you take care and avoid falling between the deep gaps. Once in the top-left section of the level, slide down and follow the path of the platforms until you can go no further. Now, jump across the wide gap and cling onto the rock face. Clamber up and jump left, drop down to the right and continue clambering down as far as you can. Jump right and the exit is on the right; just after a couple of vicious dinosaurs launch a last ditch attempt to kill you!

- The Raptor appears to be waiting for the lift, but it never arrives for the simple reason that there isn't one. Unlike Grant, the dinosaur can jump down without too many problems and carry on with his journey.

VISITORS' CENTRE

You will come across one or two problems in this final level, but they shouldn't be too taxing at this late stage. To open a door simply give it a good kick and it will swing open. Lifts are operated by pressing the button (UP) and they automatically take you down.

You'll reach a part of the level that appears to be a dead end. If you reflect on the film you may remember that Grant and Ellie escaped by clambering through a section above the false ceiling. This is what you now have to clamber into and a useful crate will help you reach the cramped loft. Run right, jumping across any dangerous gaps and you'll eventually exit into the final battle zone.

To finish the game you're going to need a few powerful grenades. These can be found by dropping down to the ledge on your left. Jump into midair so that you land on the smaller skeleton. Jump down and two hungry Raptors must be dealt with. Surprisingly, attacking them is absolutely useless!

Stand near the Raptor on the right and throw a red grenade. The skeleton will rattle, making several bones fall. Avoid the bones and walk left until you're standing next to the second Raptor. Throw another red grenade and the smaller skeleton will shake, sending more bones hurtling towards the ground. Avoid them and throw yet another red grenade. Both skeletons will collapse, trapping the Raptors and freeing Grant. You are instructed to escape using the helicopter and will fly into the sunset.

If you're controlling the Raptor, keep to the same path as if you were using Grant and you'll arrive in a corridor where you should jump up to the false ceiling. Instead of doing this simply run right, opening the doors and killing anything in your path. When you are unable to go any further, jump up and kill the guard, run right and exit to the final museum area.

It may look as though you must attack Grant with your deadly claws, but to kill him stand next to the boulder on the right and kick it. This results in the skeletons collapsing and Grant vanishing from the screen, finishing the game and showing the end screen with the Raptor in a wooden crate.

- Cor, blimey I must be getting too old for this! A strenuous, last ditch attempt to climb up and replenish Grant's energy supply is hindered by the presence of another dino. Stun this one as quickly as possible and jump up to find the much needed repair.

- An unwelcome attack as Grant drops onto a conspicuous looking ledge gives him even more strife.

SCARY SPORTS

From outside the factory, enter the first door which will take you into the Sports Mission. Instead of going right by following the arrow, walk a little way to the left and you'll find an exit post with a gold star to give you an extra energy bar. It's so easy!

MISSION 2
FRIGHTFUL FLUFFY TOYS

Walk right until you reach the stairs. Now go about halfway up and stretch as far as you can go whilst avoiding the playing-card birds. You should cling on to a platform. Once you've found this, move to the right and drop down onto a platform. Collect the gold star and use the other platforms to move left to the far edge of the screen. Now with caution. Jump up to the top of the platforms from where you are, then collect the pink star in the top right corner by the bricks. You'll need to avoid the bullets so drop down and keep moving so they won't catch you out. At the bottom, walk slightly to the right and jump up the series of small platforms whilst avoiding playing-card birds and collecting various objects. When you reach the top, move right to another bullet section. Zig-zag left and right down the section and time your drop so you fall just after the bullets are fired. At the bottom, make your way up and then right to the next bullet section. Now drop to find the exit to your right.

You'll now appear outside the factory. Make your way to the next door by going right; up the slope and then left to the next door. Now you will meet the Grand Teddy Bear. You'll need to bop him on the top of his head about eight times. Use the two platforms to make good your attack and always stand to the left or right depending on which of the three stretch up and cling onto the two teddy faces and drop onto the upper platform. You'll need to use the balls of fluff as stepping stones to reach a line of teddy bears that have green worms crawling by the side of them. Jump over the worms and drop onto the next gap. Avoid the playing-card birds and worms and keep to the left as you drop. The exit is not far below and can be found in the bottom left corner.

As you appear in the next section, run right as far as you can go and keep on the same platform level. Jump all the gaps, as the spikes below them are deadly, and keep an eye on the worms. When you reach a five-ball pillar, stretch up. Collect the gold star to your left and go right, drop to the previous level and continue right to the exit post at the end.

The third section of this mission should be tackled areas the teddy bear lands. Always jump back on the platform after an attack and remember to push down on the D-Pad for twice the power. Once this boss is dead, you'll have completed the second mission.

MISSION 3 TICKLING SWEETS

Enter the next door by climbing the slope to your left then move right. Once inside, make your way as far right as you can go whilst jumping the spike pits and using the moving platforms for the longer gaps. Just after the second set of moving platforms you'll arrive at a long down slope with an exit at the bottom. Do not exit here as you'll end up back at the start! Instead, jump on the triangular platform above the exit which will take you to a tunnel. Go left as far as you can through the twisty path. When you reach a junction, continue left and drop down to the real exit.

On the next section, it's a case of judgement as you'll need to move left and right up the screen using cream clouds and pies as stepping stones. Always collect the umbrellas on the way up as they are helpful in slowing you down if you fall. When you reach a platform that's directly above your head, move left and jump onto the final cream bun. Jump up onto the platform with a black lollipop. Stretch up and cling onto another cream bun. Move right and find the wings on a lower platform. Collect these before walking right to discover three gold stars – they will replenish your energy. Now fly upwards; first to the left, then to the right, and then left again as you find gaps through the series of platform barriers. Fly with caution as the playing-card birds fly in threes. It's best to tap the controls to edge further upwards rather than risking a blind journey that will land you in trouble.

On the third section, keep moving right – along the base of the room. Use the sweets as stepping stones and never go up as there is no need. The exit is not far along the base. Just avoid the spikes and reach the end of the room to finish the mission.

MISSION 4 MENACING TOYS

Move to the next door in the factory and begin the mission by jumping on the train to collect pink stars above you. Continue to move right and destroy the trains by bashing them on top three times. Some can easily be jumped upon whilst others must be bashed at intervals. There are a few spike-pits to jump, but if you keep moving right you'll come to the exit with ease. Just move with caution and this section will be fairly straight forward.

The second section is all about keeping up with the moving train you are on top of. You must keep moving because if you become stuck between a carriage, you'll die when the train runs off the screen. Avoid the aeroplanes by jumping over them as soon as they appear on the screen. The exit is on the engine at the front of the train.

The next section comprises of mechanical toys and steel girder platforms. Be very careful as some

The level with mechanical toys can be very tricky with trial and error often being your only way of completing the mission. The train blocks your way through the small channel and the only way to pass is by jumping on top of it three times.

The two soap bars on the left of the screen can't be missed as there is a hidden room here that contains a host of stars that'll boost your energy level. On this level you can choose to cover the landscape in a bathtub or on foot – the choice is yours.

platforms will drop and kill you instantly. Always stop just before suspended girders and wait for them to drop so you can continue safely. When you arrive at the pyramid of girders, go through the walkway second from the top and jump over the separate platform at the end – if you don't, it will squash you against the ceiling! Continue to move right end where you'll trigger a switch. Don't forget to hit the penguin bomb so you'll be able to exit the level. Go back to the point where the floor-gate prevented entry into a downward tunnel. You'll find this is now open. Drop down and collect the two gold stars at the end of the tunnel to the left. Now stretch back up the opening and continue back and avoid the nasties by jumping over them. Touch the black lollipops as they are mid-level saves and they allow you to continue from them if you die. The girders will fall if you stay on them too long. So, watch out! Always move from girder-to-girder with a succession of quick jumps so they'll only move towards the ceiling a little. When you reach the exit, use the floor girder at the right wall as a lift and jump off it to exit safely.

On the fourth section, travel right until you reach a junction. Take the lower tunnel and move right to the junction where you should take the upper tunnel. You'll find the section exit beyond three or four trains.

The next factory door will reveal a big car that must be bashed so you can finish the mission. The car will produce smaller cars as well, so you have a lot of bashing to do. Deal with the small cars first, then leap onto the top of the big car and bash it about eight times. Be quick as it will release smaller cars at certain intervals. When this boss is dead, you'll have completed the mission.

TIPS

MISSION 5 BEWARE OF BATH TIME!

The first section is easy if you keep to the top of the screen and watch for traps. Follow the string of bubbles that rise along the top of the screen and keep moving quickly until you reach the exit at the end. You'll only need to move right and there is very little that'll get in your way.

On the next section stay in the bath and move along the bottom until you reach two blue soap bars. Go through the bars and you'll access a bonus room where there are gold stars. When leave a full screen view for yourself whilst making sure you don't end up trapped behind a barrier. Leave yourself a good view to see where you're landing during high jumps. Exit at the end of the stage.

MISSION 6 BELLIGERENT BOARD GAMES

When you enter the section that's decorated with chess pieces, make your way up the zig-zag

This boss can be a tough nut to crack. If you use the ladder to the right then life should be a lot easier. If you stay on the top rung and bop this guy on the head every time he reaches the highest level then the job should be a clean one.

you exit the room, continue along the bottom until you find a large bath tub. Jump out your bath and leap on top of the tub. You'll drop inside and exit the level.

On the third section you'll need to avoid the moving soap bars. To avoid getting crushed at the beginning, move right with large jumps so you arch over two soap bars at a time. When you reach the two ducks with a pair of soap bars in the middle, run under quickly as a section of the floor rises from the base to crush you against the soap. Continue along the section with a moving platform, collect the stars and then arrive at a series of mound levels. Drop as low as you can and use the moving soap platform to get across the spikes to the exit.

The final section has a moving background, much like the train level, and you'll have to keep moving if you don't want trapped. As there are many spike traps, you'll need to

high up by the pipe and cling on. On the left wall of this channel, there is a branching tunnel that can't be reached from the ground. You'll need to cling onto the ceiling and drop onto the branching tunnel ledge by falling on to it at a diagonal. Avoid the playing-card bird as you do so. It may take you a fair time to master this manoeuvre, but trial and error will allow you to find the correct fall angle. When you reach the left tunnel, follow this down and stretch up at the opening until you reach the ledge that has crawling green worms. The path ahead is simple to follow until you reach the end of section exit.

The next section is littered with nasties and there are a lot of them too! The monsters that bounce up and down can easily be jumped over when they are at their lowest position.

Don't waste too much time killing them as you can move swiftly through the level if you're careful. When you reach the black lollipop, make sure you don't touch the items around it as they are deadly. Jump over and continue until you come across a gold 'stand-on' switch. Do not stand on it because, if you do, a platform will fall on your head! Instead, jump over and continue right until you reach the flashing exit. From here you can find three stars in a secret room beyond the exit. Just jump over it and go off the screen to the right. Once you have collected the stars, exit through the door.

The final section puts you up against a boss sitting in a chair. You'll need to bop him four or five times and the best way to do this is climb the ladder on the right and then figure out your foe's simple movement pattern. When he slides left and right towards the top of the ladder, bop him at his highest point at the same interval every time. You'll be safe on the ladder if you keep to the right. Remember to always stay on the top rung if you can. Beat this guy and you're on for the next mission's entertainment.

MISSION 7 A CRINGING CASTLE

The first section is made up of lego bricks and you'll need to find the first penguin by jumping from the platform by the coke can over two lego pillars down to a small enclosure. Now stretch to the top of the screen and cling on to the ceiling. Move right and drop down on a higher platform then continue right. Collect the gold star and jump as far right as possible. The next penguin bomb is here in the corner and you must defuse it. Drop down and go right to find a third penguin edges left, along the top, then down the right to find the exit.

On the castle section, the plane will save you a lot of effort as there is no need to climb the structure. Just fly upwards on the very left side of the screen and find the exit on the top of the highest cloud.

To finish the mission on the final section of the castle, just fly along the top of the bomb then stretch up to the platform above and watch out for the soldier at the top. To the right, there is a large down slope. Descend with care because if you go too fast, you'll land on the spikes. At the bottom of the slope, jump right onto the pillar and stretch up to the platform with an exit. Jump over the exit, walk to the platform beyond and drop down to find a second exit. You'll enter a bonus room where there are two gold stars to replenish energy and a toy plane you'll be able to fly in.

If you've collected the toy plane, the large tree stalk in the next section is easily avoided. Simply fly as far left as possible, follow the screen up to the left of the tree, then fly right from the top left corner along the top of the screen. When you reach the far-right side, drop down to find the exit.

Follow the same procedure in the next section. Follow the screen screen, above the clouds, and drop down at the far right to get to the mission exit.

MISSION 8 THE ATTACKING ARTS

The first part consists of attacking pencils and bouncing monsters.

Collect the gold stars between the typewriters and jump over the spike pits. The penguins will be discovered en route with the exit not being far away on what is a very straightforward and simple stage.

The next room takes on a musical flavour with pianos and other musical instruments. You should take the simple route and ignore moving platforms and false arrow signs. Move right and when the piano floor lowers, keep moving and don't stop as sections of the piano start to rise from the surface. When you've jumped the large spike areas, get onto the highest level on the pipes. When you reach the guitars, jump on the blue plectrums as the guitars can no be landed on. The yellow plectrum takes you up to a higher level and the exit is just to the right. Run towards it and don't stop as a section of piano will rise and attempt to crush you against the ceiling.

You'll now enter the pipe maze. From the start, you'll notice an exit to the left that you can't reach. There is a pipe opening just above this which reveals a secret room. Stretch upwards just to the right and enter this for some extra stars. Return at the start and move further right so you can stretch upwards and continue travelling right. You'll find more guitar plectrums. When you reach the yellow plectrum there is a blue one just above. Land on this and move left to take you back towards the pipes on a higher level. When the blue plectrum stops, you'll be able to access the highest pipe channel along the top of the screen. Move left to the top left hand corner and drop down to find the exit.

Back outside the factory, move to the door above your current location and challenge the lady. Use the two platforms for safety and approach and bash her four or five times on the head to finish the mission and get onto the next.

MISSION 9 THE WACKIEST CIRCUS ON EARTH

Back outside the factory you'll discover there are no more doors further up. You'll need to drop all the way back to the ground, then walk right to find the padlocked mission nine door. Enter this to start the circus fun.

Move along the base past all the circus huts and look out for gold stars above. When you reach a large bonus block, bypass this trajectory through loads of goodies and towards the exit. You can adjust your position to fly upwards and slightly right of the firing line. You'll be able to come up level with the exit platform. When you do, move swiftly left so you land on it at your maximum height. Exit through the door.

You'll have to defuse four penguin bombs in the next stage. Go into the tent where you can pick up the toy aeroplane, then fly up a channel in the middle of the large room to find four penguins – two on each side. Now go back down the channel, move to the right and go down through the fluffy platform clouds and find the exit. Once

JAMES POND 2 CODENAME RoboCod

The circus mission is typically full of clowns, tents, bouncy balls and all that business. The task for you, however, is to find the penguin bombs so you can make a hasty exit – and it's not quite so straight forward as it may appear.

When you've collected these, go left and up to discover another padlocked door.

In the final room, you must kill the giant snowman by bopping him five or six times on the head. Get onto the platform above him by using the smaller snowman as a stepping stone. Wait until the snowman is at the opposite end of the platform to time your jump – so you land on his head in the middle and end up on the opposite side. Kill this guy and you'll have Santa Claus arriving on his sledge to take you away in the game over screens!

TIPS

After smashing three joy-pads against the wall and shouting at just about every person in the building, Mark Hill brings you a comprehensive guide to Shinobi III on the Mega Drive. The later levels proved to be very tough indeed with countless hours spent trying to jump the fiddly bits and avoid the plentiful enemy fire.

MEGA

SHINOBI III

The first part of level one is quite straightforward. As you walk through the wooded area, enemies will attack from the ground and in the trees. For the ground enemies, always fire at them as soon as they appear on the screen. As you do attack, make sure you duck and fire so you'll avoid anything they throw back at you. For the enemies in the trees, jump up and fire as soon as they catch your eye in the top-right corner. Don't forget to collect all the power-ups along the way to enhance weapon power and energy as you'll need them for the large bosses throughout the game.

When you reach the dark tunnel you'll come across three enemies in turn that take three hits to destroy. The first two attack with fire-power that can be avoided by jumping upwards. You must fire at them just when they've fired their weapon – as this is when they are exposed to attacks. Remember also to time your jump when small white dots start to appear around their sword. You'll need to watch the third enemy as his fire-power comes back along the ground. To kill this guy you need to stand just in front of him, wait for him to fire, then quickly make an attack and leap back up in the air to avoid the returning fire-power. Remember the enemy must flash to show it's been hit.

Once you're back in the woods, continue to defeat the enemies with quick attacks. When you reach the 'go' arrow pointing up, climb the walls by jumping up in a zigzag style, then drop down the other side and prepare for the spikes. Wait for them to appear, then jump over the danger area accordingly. After this you'll need to continue through the woods, making sure you don't fall down the gaps. Always attack the enemies on the following island so you can leap the gaps and land in a safe area. On arrival at the rope above, hold up on the D-Pad and jump as you do so to cling on. Then move across and don't fall! At the other side you'll soon arrive at the end of this section.

On horseback the action is fast and there are plenty of pick-ups. Enemies attack from all directions and as well as dealing with them you are going to have to jump the fences that arrive at intervals when the exclamation icon appears.

The final part of Zeed's resurrection puts you up against a guardian. First watch his pattern of attack and learn when he starts to make a run at you. Firstly he'll walk slowly towards you with swords in the air. When he's as close as can be to you, he'll point his sword at you. Now fire once at him with any weapon and retreat a little. When you hear an explosive noise it means he is about to attack by running at you head-on. You must jump high in the air as the guardian moves past below so you can prepare your next attack from the other side of the screen. Repeat this method six times for victory and progression to level 2.

The first part of this level puts you on horseback where you must jump the fences and defeat all the flying enemies. When the first wave of attackers appears on screen, jump over their bullets and attack as if you're hitting their vehicles (making sure your thumb is kept on the fire button). When you reach the enemies with spears, use the invincibility magic to protect yourself from the spear shower.

The next part puts you back on foot with ground enemies that fire lethal boomerangs. If you have fire-power, jump the boomerangs and attack the enemies as soon as you see them on the far right. If you only have the sword at this stage, it'll take some tricky close combat until a power-up

Once you're past these enemies you'll arrive at a platform. This takes you upwards with a top-to-bottom scrolling screen and a host of enemies that attack from the left and right side of the platform shaft.

As you rise, jump up high and clear the enemies in the connecting channels so that you won't be attacked yourself when you draw level with them. As you go higher you'll have to be careful because the platform will squash you against platform bars above if you don't move out the way! It requires some skilful climbing around the ledge edges to keep up with the platform that's always rising. Once at the top of the shaft it's time to face the next end-of-level guardian.

The guardian is fairly simple to beat as you only need to use two lots of magic. By now you should have collected enough magic icons, as this part of the game is ideal for using it.

On this part the enemies attack from the ceiling and floor. Watch the arrows in the slime pit as they turn into monsters that rise through the slime. Attack them as soon as they appear, and jump up to kill the flying creatures along the ceiling before they have the chance to fly down and make life tricky! After this you'll arrive in an area where brains are kept in glass cases. Fire at the brains as soon as they jump out the cases. When you reach the conveyer belts, work your way right, then up to the highest ceiling and cling on. Move right until you reach a high platform, then drop down the other side. Now you'll walk on a long conveyer belt to a place with more brain enemies. Cling onto the ceiling and fire as the enemies drop down; if the screen gets too crowded, use magic to clear the area. Once you've killed the wave of enemies the 'go' arrow will appear, telling you to go down the shaft exit.

The next part consists of lobster-type creatures that rise from the ground. Identify them by their large pincers and fire at them as soon as they rise. You must be careful here that the big monster in the background doesn't target you. He'll try and line the green cross-hairs over you and you have to jump out the way before he can lock on. If you keep moving right you'll be able to escape this — if caught you'll lose energy as there is no escape!

The end-of-level guardian for this level is huge and you'll need to use magic to kill it. Try the 'Jitsu of Mijin' magic as this has a strong effect on guardians such as this.

TIPS

You start round four with a spot of surfing with the concept being very similar to the horseback sequence. Jump the bullets fired at you and don't forget to prepare for the water jumps when the exclamation mark appears. High up, there are all kinds of bonus icons to collect by using the ramps.

Back on dry ground the next level is rather a tricky one. A series of pipes make up the level structure and you'll need to make best use of your acrobatic skills here. Remember to always attack as soon as you see the enemy on screen. Considering there are many water areas you'll need to jump carefully and it's very easy to be knocked off a platform into some water by the enemy bullets. Use the pipes to climb high when the way ahead to the right is blocked by a pillar. The 'Go' arrow midway through indicates where you must go and also how to use the pipes as climbing apparatus. Also, watch the platforms that float on the water as these start to sink when you're standing on them!

The final section puts you back on the surf board for a tough encounter with two enemy space ships. They fire rapidly in two directions — you should avoid this with a succession of high jumps. Use magic if you have some.

For the first part you'll need to move quickly as the chemical cylinders explode when you stand on them. There are plenty of enemies that fire quickly and accurately, so never dive in but approach each with care. Duck and jump to avoid bullets and never stay on the cylinders too long! At the end of this section there's a guardian who'll reproduce to form a chain and dart left and right at high speed at you, stopping at intervals to fire rockets. Use magic here once and finish off the job with your weapon whilst making sure your jumps are timed to perfection.

When you defeat the guardian you'll go onto a section where the bombs must be detonated to blow up platforms for access. Slice or shoot the boxes then retreat as the platforms explode.

After you've passed the 'go' arrow, the next section is a little tricky to work out in terms of direction. Move right whilst blasting the enemies until you reach a moving vertical platform. Move up a level on this and go back left to detonate a bomb in the corner. When this explodes you can drop down, move left and climb upwards. From here go right until you reach a moving platform. Blow up the larger platform by detonating the bomb, then drop onto the moving one that'll take you further right. Now

ACTION REPLAY CODES

The following codes should prove to be very helpful for those wishing to complete Shinobi III.

FF37E90010 Infinite energy jump off and continue right until you reach another bomb on a small platform with a channel underneath. Blow this up and drop down through the channel. Collect the power-ups below.

When you reach a large space with a drop below, jump up and cling onto the ceiling. Now swing right and shoot the box with another bomb which is impossible to reach. This blows up a barrier between you and the exit. To reach the exit, go back on yourself so you end up back at the highest level, then move as far right as you can and drop down from the top-right corner. Follow the 'go' arrow from here.

Now you'll need to continue blowing up platforms to access new areas. First go right and take the second moving vertical platform: detonate the bomb above, then return to the first moving platform and go up, then right. Next go up the second channel from the far left, kill the enemy gunner, then detonate the bomb just to the right and up. Go back past the point where the last enemy was defeated and down the vertically moving platform. Now walk left to the next moving platform that goes up. When you reach a pillar suspended from the ceiling, you'll need to use the left and right walls of an opening below to get around it and up the other side. Now work your way upwards using the series of horizontal pipes as a ladder. The 'go' arrow will indicate the exit near here.

The final guardian takes quite a beating: it takes three doses of magic to rid this beast.

When you reach the section with a network of pipes then life can become very frustrating. You'll need to deal with your foes on every pipe level and also make best use of your acrobatic capabilities to avoid falling into the deathly pits of liquid below.

The first part of this level can be very tricky and frustrating as you have to climb a set of rocks that seem to go on for ever. Slipping off is very easy — especially when you're hit by enemy fire. Try to climb by jumping then spinning in midair for longer, higher jumps. If frustration gets the better of you, relax and take care over pressing the buttons as timing is crucial. If you die near the end you'll still start right back at the beginning of this section. You've been warned!

When you've finished jumping from rock to rock you'll come face-to-face with a guardian. Again use magic if you have it, otherwise it's going to take a lot of patience and bullet dodging to get rid of this guy. Make sure you stay on the rocks and avoid standing near the edge where you could be knocked into the water.

The next stage can also catch you out if you're not careful. First go through the two exit doors until you reach a collection of icon boxes. Don't pick these up but jump on them to go high up. If you have 'Jitsu of Ikazuchi' magic, use it here as no other enemies can knock you off the boxes. Using these as stepping stones you should find an exit at the top. Go through and you'll arrive in another section with walls to climb above. Climb a vertical wall, then jump from wall to wall as you go right. Now jump from the right face of the far right wall towards a higher platform further right. If you make this jump, you'll meet a string of enemies that can be dealt with using any weapon. When you arrive at two suspended platforms, jump on them quickly, otherwise they'll drop to the floor and you'll be put back at the start. When you reach the vertical walls, jump over the tops and go as far right as possible. Then drop down into the exit.

The final guardian here comes in the shape of a wizard. First battle your way as normal through a line of enemies, then go through the second exit you come across with the arch over the top. Inside the guardian will appear as a shadow or as himself, it's up to you to chase the right shadow and hope you hit him! Position yourself between the two squares where he and his shadow will appear so you can strike both almost at once. When you defeat the shadow, the guardian himself reappears and you'll need to chase him around the six squares! Use any magic you may have – the invincibility magic is particularly useful here.

Acrobatics is the name of this round as you'll need to cling onto the rails as you go right to survive. Use the invincibility magic if you have it, so you don't have to worry about any of the dangers except falling! The latter is very easy – especially when you have to jump from rail to rail with a large gap between. The secret here is to hold the D-Pad up every time you drop down onto a rail – this way you'll always cling on. Find the 'go' arrow for the next part as you go right.

When you're fighting the very last guardian be prepared for a tough battle as this guy has a multitude of weapons that'll cook you in no time. Try to save some magic for this level as you're going to need it!

Next you'll rise on a platform lift where you have to dodge all the enemy bullets and destroy anything that moves. Once at the top you proceed right where large cannon-objects pump out chemical fireballs in threes. Jump the balls and nip in to attack between the enemy salvos. Repeat this for every enemy of this kind until you find the 'go' arrow.

The next part is very difficult – even if you have Action Replay codes. You'll need to use the wall faces to climb and avoid the electric charges. Make sure you wait for the lifts as well. When you reach the posts above a pit, make sure you jump when they sink to their lowest level. When you reach a large channel going upwards, the two walls start to close in and sandwich you. You must be quick and zigzag your way up before being crushed! You have a fair amount of time – just don't fall too far back!

The final enemy is small, yet deadly. Use all the magic you have left to defeat him, then grit your teeth and fight man-to-man if you need to. The safest bet is to make sure you've saved enough magic to use on this guy!

Once the final guardian is dead it's a ride off into the sunset for a completed game.

Gee. We get an Everest of mail every day so much so that a large part of our time is spent sorting it into correct bundles.

Send all submissions to the proper department (see below) at:

SEGAPro,
Paragon Publishing,
Durham House,
124 Old Christchurch Road,
Bournemouth BH1 1NF.

PROTEST

The letters sent here are usually some silly git rabbling on about how jealous they are of someone else, or of some poor guy needing help with their console and even of anyone who needs advice on console specific problems.

You can ask what games will be available or how to get in contact with a company, but don't ask for game help (see ProHelp for that). The best letter AND the best ProDebate submission wins a SEGAPro T-shirt, but only witty, cheeky or lively submissions are even considered - you can't win a T-shirt by asking for some advice!

PRODEBATE

In addition to letters, we sometimes have ProDebates, which should be addressed like such: TV Debate, ProTest. Get your views into the open and state your case. SEGAPro T-shirts are awarded if we consider a point to be particularly valid. If you want to start a debate, write in and let us know about it!

PROART

Far too much artwork is missed out because it has been addressed to ProTest. Send your art to ProArt for speedy attention. If you want it returned, don't forget to include a SAE and remember to always write your name, address and age on the back of your art. The best art, each month, wins a stupendously brilliant SEGAPro T-shirt.

PROTIPS

There are so many types of tips which can be sent in. Action Replay codes, small cheats, small tips, part solutions, whole game guides and maps. Lots of carts and T-shirts are won every month! So, there you are! Get sending.

PROHELP

Our revitalised section is bigger and better than ever! If you are stuck on a level, can't kill the boss or are totally lost, drop the Pros a line with details of your problem.

PROSCORES

No prizes here, but you get your high score branded around the country. If you supply a photograph, you can then show all your friends how clever you are.

GAME OVER

If you have finished a game recently, why not tape it and, if it is published, you could win a cart. When the Pros receive a Game Over, we pick out selected screenshots and add a witty storyline.

PROTEST

RUMBLED!

In the Rumbelows' edition of SEGAPro, I found some information a little confusing. I read the ProFile and discovered a small section on the game Moonwalker. I have been trying to obtain this game since November 1992, but can't find it anywhere. I assumed that because you reviewed it, it is still on general release. If it isn't, why did you bother putting it in the magazine?

William, Banbury

The aim of the Profile is to give a guide on every game that's ever been released. It doesn't mean that we reviewed it in that issue. With games as old as Moonwalker, we just try to give a general idea of the standard of gameplay, as a guide to potential buyers. Moonwalker isn't on general release any more and you'll probably have quite a lot of trouble finding it. You may be able to buy it from a second hand dealer, but even then you'll be lucky to get it. If you're really that desperate to get hold of it, try going through a mail order company. They often stock older games and they will probably be cheaper too.

TRANSFER TROUBLE

I recently bought the issue of SEGAPro with the free T-shirt prints. I am a great fan of Street Fighter II and was very disappointed when my

KICKING UP A STINK

On August 13, I raced to my local newsagents to buy SEGAPro. Upon opening it, I got a strange whiff of sick. I quickly closed the magazine and looked to see if I had stepped on something nasty. Fortunately, I hadn't. I sat down and opened the pages, but the bizarre aroma filled my lungs, yet again. Moments later I discovered a Street Fighter II transfer. I found it was this that reeked of puke and it had also caused the whole magazine to stink.

I normally enjoy your magazine, but this month's was not up to scratch. How about a nice alpine fresh aroma, or a fragrance taken from a newly opened catalogue next month?

E McMinnis, Merseyside

Oh dear. We have noticed the problem ourselves, but by the time we realised, the transfers had been printed. No one knows why they smell so rotten, but apparently it has something to do with the materials used in the transfer. Don't worry, though, as soon as the cellophane bag is opened, the smell will begin to fade. However, we publicly apologise for causing many a reader to retch over their favourite monthly read.

Ken print went wrong. Some of the print came out, but most of it stayed on the transfer. What went wrong? I followed the instructions perfectly, so it must be a duff transfer.

Robbi Laing, Cornwall

Ever since we gave out the Street Fighter II transfers, we have been flooded with problems concerning them. If you don't follow the instructions properly, it's hardly our fault if the transfers go wrong. Remember, the iron must be on a medium to high heat, or they won't stick to the T-shirt. The transfer must also be kept absolutely still, otherwise, it will smudge. Lastly, you must iron the transfer on for over five minutes, or again, it won't stick to the T-shirt!

SELLING UP

I am writing to you because I need some speedy advice. Everyone I know is abandoning their Mega Drives to buy different machines. They are either buying a SNES or say they will sell their Mega Drive when the CD32 comes out. I think they're absolutely stupid! Now that SF II is coming out on the Mega Drive, the SNES has nothing going for it. Even Mario isn't that good! Why is the CD32 going to be so great? Everyone has heard that the machine is going to be the best ever, but no one has mentioned if anyone is developing software for the console. Please give me some advice for my fellow (soon to be ex) Mega Drive owners.

Jason Martin, Seven Dials

Well, the argument over Sega and Nintendo has been raging for years now and there's not a lot left to talk about. You're right, though, the Mega Drive will have Street Fighter II very shortly. This will cash in on Nintendo's strongest selling point! Don't forget that Sega have the Mega-CD which puts the humble SNES right in its place. As for the CD32, well, it hasn't even been released yet, so how can we know what to expect. However, there's no denying that it has the capabilities of being one of the best consoles around. As for advice, I think you should all stop arguing about over whose console is better and do something more constructive with your time. It's not our fault if you've got nothing better to do than that!

EASY PEASY

I think that most Sega games are far too easy, even though you've heard it a million times. I have 31 Mega Drive games and can normally finish many of them in under a day. There are games I can't finish, such as Lemmings, but most games are just too easy.

I think that because games are so easy, people should hire them instead of paying £40. Most games can be completed within a night and even if they can't, you can always hire them out again. This has to be cheaper than paying out £40 for one night's play.

If software producers made games more difficult, it would mean more value for money. At least you'd want to go back to the game one in a while.

Oliver Connolly, Jersey

We agree that many games are far too easy. We'll often complete a game in a day, even without help from an Action Replay cartridge. However, a lot of games players do find games very difficult, so the software houses have to appeal to the majority. If you do find games too easy, hiring them is the perfect solution. However, the companies that hire out the best games are probably illegal. Most official Sega outlets don't hire out the latest games, so you'd have to go to a smaller, more elusive outlet!

NO STREET CRED

Please, please help me. I am sick of having no street cred and am writing to you as a last-ditch attempt. I have a Mega Drive, but it seems that I always get hold of the best games after everyone else. Even then, I usually make the wrong choice and all my friends laugh at my "latest" game. What can I say to them to shut them up? If you could send me a SegaPro T-shirt, then I'm sure all my friends would think I was incredibly cool. Even if they didn't it would definitely make my day!

John Chalmers, East Sussex

Ben Graves 12

Yet again, the mailbox is brimming over with readers' problems. We try to answer as many as possible, but it often takes a while to get through them all! If you've sent in a problem recently, don't panic if you haven't received a reply. We are getting round to it!

An appeal landed on our desk not long ago, asking for information on the ace RPG Landstalker. D Holt of Bristol wants to know where he can get hold of the imported game. Unfortunately, Landstalker was available on import some time ago, so it's highly probable that importers will have sold out of the title by now. Even if you can get hold of a copy, all the text is in Japanese. This could cause a few problems unless you're a native speaker! Good news is on the way though. Landstalker is due to be officially released this month. All the text will have been converted to English, so any RPG freaks will be in for a great treat!

David Wells of Lancs wrote to us with many different problems. Unfortunately, we only have the space to answer a couple! He asks whether a Sequel to Cool Spot is planned. Virgin are currently very busy with their new titles, and are likely to see how well Cool Spot does before they work on a sequel. As for what game we recommend buying in 1994, well it's a bit early to tell. We get very rough release schedules for companies, but they all change drastically. I think it's better to wait for a couple of months before you decide game purchases for next year!

Athoob Abdali writes all the way from Kuwait with problems over the Action Replay. He wants to know if the Action Replay will work on Japanese or other Asian machines. You're in luck! Although the Action Replay is primarily a cheats device, it also acts as a converter. It fits into Japanese machines perfectly and costs £39.99. If you're looking for a cheaper alternative, why not try the Universal adapter? You can't use it to get infinite lives, but it allows you to play any game on a UK or Japanese machine. You can order any of Dattel's products from our mail order department on 0 (0202) 299900.

Amzad Ali from London along with about 50 other people want to know the release date of Sonic 3.

PROTEST!

What can we say? If your friends are constantly taking the mick over your games choice, there's nothing we can do about that. Perhaps you should tell them to stop being so sad. After all, there are people who would kill to get their hands on an up to date game. Just because some people seem to get games all the time, it doesn't mean that the ones they choose are necessarily the best. If you enjoy a game, why should you care what anyone else says?

As for the SEGA PRO T-shirt, the answer is no! To get this prestigious garment, you have to earn it! Anyway, perhaps if you'd come to us in the first place, you wouldn't have had the "cool" problem at all!

PRICE DISCREPANCIES

Although I think that SEGA PRO is a brilliant magazine, I feel I have to complain about discrepancies over pricing. I was planning to buy Jungle Strike and noticed that your Prodates section priced it at £44.99. However, when you reviewed the game you priced it at £49.99. My pocket money isn't even the national average, so it takes me a long time to save for a game. A discrepancy of even £5 can mean the difference between getting a game and not getting one. Please sort this out.

MORTAL COMBAT

When we write Prodates, it is often months in advance of the product's release date. Software companies often haven't decided how much and when a game will be released at that point. They usually supply us with a preliminary price and release date so that we can write the information in the mag. As the game gets developed, the programmers may encounter problems, or the content may change drastically. This is why release dates and prices can change. Most games cost a standard £39.99, but if a game is bigger than 8Mbit, or is a special release, the price will vary. Sorry for any misleading information, but as you can see, it's really out of our hands.

EIGHT PLAYERS

I've heard that Sega will be bringing out an add-on that allows up to eight people to play the same game. Although it is a good idea that more than two people can play the same game, I think that having more than four people playing is ridiculous. How is everyone supposed to see the game when eight people are crowding around it? Games are also going to get very confusing with so many different players on screen. I think Sega should concentrate on producing better two-player games, rather than bringing out yet another novelty product. I'm one of those sad people who bought a Menacer and apart from T2, there aren't any games to play it with. Point taken?

Terry Dunstable, Northampton

Although the Menacer may have been a novelty product, the four-player Tap isn't. Sega have big plans for this product and are currently developing many games for it. Electronic Arts have also developed an adapter, although their version won't be compatible with Sega's. However, the two companies are discussing

Paul Heap 11

Well, Sonic 3 doesn't actually exist. It seems that Sega are trying to move away from a series of Sonic games and are calling their latest titles Sonic Chaos. This will appear on the Master System this month and the Game Gear next month. As for Mega Drive owners, they have something different in store too. Sonic Spinball is the name of Sonic's latest adventure and again, it is due for release in November. Sonic CD should also be in the shops very soon and is yet another adventure from our spiky friend. That should answer everyone's queries about Sonic for now!

Stephen Hancock of Romford reckons he's written in to us three times and has never had his question answered. Sorry Stephen, but at least this time you're lucky! He wants to know if that popular (?) arcade game Ninja Warriors will ever be released on cartridge. Well, we've asked just about everyone, but most people haven't even heard of the game! It looks as if it will never appear on cartridge, but you never know! There are millions of Japanese producers bringing out obscure software all the time!

Joe Eltham of Leicester has a problem with his Mega-CD. He finds that on certain CDs, the game sticks, or won't play at all. It sounds as if your CD or the disks need a clean. You can clean the disk with a normal CD cleaner and the machine can be cleaned with a standard cleaning disk. These are pretty inexpensive and will ensure that your CD stays in top condition.

Francisco Guerra of Northampton is stuck on a few of Sega's games and wants to know if there are any helplines he can phone to get help. There are lots of tips lines advertised in SEGA PRO, but Sega themselves don't have a helpline. They will sometimes be able to give you game information, but they can generally only help with titles before they have been released.

That's all there's space for this month, but we'll be back for more in the December issue!

If you have a problem with your console, why not let the Pros solve it? Remember, though, this column is for hardware and general only - we can't answer game-specific problems.

Write to the Pros at: SEGA PRO, Paragon Publishing, Durham House, 124 Old Christchurch Road, Bournemouth BN1 1NF. You can also fax your problems on (0202) 299955. See ya next month!

a possible joint adapter to be developed in the future. The adapter itself is only designed for up to four players, but two adapters can be plugged in for an eight player game. However this isn't compulsory, so if you don't want to play with eight people, just use the one adapter!

It's all very well telling Sega to improve two player games, but by introducing a four-player adapter, this is exactly what they are doing!

HALF PAGES ARE USELESS

As a subscribing reader, I feel that I have to write to you. Why are you letting the standard of your excellent magazine decline with useless half page reviews? In answer to a previous letter, you said you were trying to cut down on one page reviews. That may be true, but having half-page reviews instead doesn't count! People preparing to buy a game need more info than just a score. How are we supposed to know which games are good if you don't say anything about them?

Tim Cooke, Dublin

The reason we write half page reviews is so we can get bigger reviews into the mag! We try to allocate games that aren't very good, or are already out in the shops, less space than other titles. This means there is more room to review bigger and better games. However, we do try to cram as much information as possible into the smaller reviews and although they may not be as in depth, you should still get the general idea.

MORE HAND HELD

I really enjoy reading SEGA PRO, but there are three things I have to complain about. Firstly, I own a Game Gear and I'm really proud of it. You never seem to review any Game Gear games and when you do, you allocate them a measly half-page.

Secondly, in the August issue of SEGA PRO, you said that Desert Strike, Road Runner, Jurassic Park and Ecco the Dolphin would all be on release in September. I am dying to get hold of all these games! However, in the September issue of SEGA PRO, not one of them was reviewed. What's more, they had vanished from Prodates! I know that some games do miss their release date, but could a little more checking up be done?

Lastly, in the September edition, you gave away a T-shirt transfer with the issue. This smelt of something rather unpleasant and made me feel quite sick. What happened?

Giles Woodhouse, Surrey

We really are trying to get more Game Gear reviews into the magazine. For instance, last issue, we managed to get five one page reviews of Game Gear titles, as well as a couple in the small reviews section. Game Gear reviews seem to be so erratic at the moment and it really is a matter of luck whether we get them into the mag. That's why in some months, it may seem as if we haven't bothered to get any games in. Believe me, we would have been trying, but Game Gear titles are the most difficult to get hold of.

As for the other games you mentioned, they have all slipped into later months. All three of those releases are now scheduled for late October, but they could slip even further. As mentioned before, we are only as reliable as our source. If Sega are wrong in the first place, what can we do?

STOP RUINING OUR GAMES!

Lately, most Mega-CD games have included FMV digitised sequences. These games are extremely popular, due to their realistic graphics. Now that Night Trap has had an age restriction put on it, what will happen to the future of all games? When people start restricting games, it's going to change what programmers are able to produce.

Paul Chiltern 15

Ashraf Degia 10

Darren Spillett 12

Age restrictions can be a good idea, but where is it all going to stop? People may start to cut parts out of games or censor parts that they don't agree with. For instance, I know that Mortal Kombat has a special code so that you can't normally see the blood. That's the most stupid idea I have ever heard! All that's doing is ruining the game! I'm beginning to wonder if games will ever be seen as purely games again!

Brendon "Indiana Jones" Randall

The Night Trap scandal is over now (no more letters please!) and most people agree that it was a fuss over almost nothing. However, it has left the games industry in a bit of a dilemma. They basically decided that all games with any live actors in may have to be age certified. If the games feature any violent scenes, they automatically go for certification. I wouldn't worry too much about games being censored, as the video games industry believes it can take care of the problem by itself. It's possible that certain games may get an 18 rating, but many software publishers feel they have to be over-cautious, due to the recent scandal. Once it's all forgotten, you'll probably find that games are just the same as ever!

GAME OVER

The graduate, Conrad Hart, stumbled across one fact too many at the presidential rally and thus became a target of an enemy snipe. Just before the sniper's bullet hit him, his magical holocube sucked him away from trouble and so the search began for the hero to unlock the secrets of the alien invasion.

Flashback was a huge success that received top ratings. It was a real hit with many Sega owners alike. No doubt, it was a tough job for Matthew Hayes of Derby to battle through the seven levels, but with thanks to him we can now bring you the end sequences. Well done, Matthew for proving that you're a real Pro!

FLASHBACK

Just a few more minutes before I begin!

Conrad looks on in wonder at the terror and destruction left behind. It's a hard life is it not? After countless hours with his life being on the line, he has finally recovered the memory chip and saved the day.

A deep burning glow comes from the final memories of an evil race torn apart at last. Now, all he can think about is a big mac and large fries at the burger place back on Earth.

A look on the screen gives details of an area known on the navigation charts. Well, Earth may be a long way off, but at least everyone is safe.

It's full steam ahead for the members off the Flashback crew now!

I suppose this is what it takes to reach Earth.

Earth girls are easy, so I guess that's where I'll go.

And so, Conrad was heading back to Earth in his sleeping berth. Once he got back he would do what all travellers do when they reach a new port of call...

Here. You're quite pricey, but it was well worth it.

I only wish he could consider me once in a while.

How much is the girl behind? It's been a very hard journey y'know!

After telling his intrepid tales to every Tom, Dick and Harry that will buy him a drink, Conrad shows more interest in Earthly pursuits. Ah, well, he's only human afterall!
